Mr. DAVIDSON. Mr. Speaker, I move the vote by which House Bill No. 1389, (Senate Bill No. 286), file folio 891, was defeated this morning, be reconsidered.

Mr. HAGMAIER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

MOTION TO POSTPONE.

Mr. DAVIDSON. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 1389, (Senate Bill No. 286), file folio 891, be placed on the postponed calender.

Mr. HERMANSEN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. MEMOLO. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this bill pertains principally to Lackawanna County. It is really a validating act, and is just a question as to whether or not the Judge of the Common Pleas Court has the right to hire such clerk or clerks as he deems necessary from time to time. It seems in our county that a judge of the Common Pleas court employed a clerk and the question came up as to whether or not the Judge had the right to employ such clerk. After the Judge's term had expired the County Commissioners and several others were surcharged with the salary that was paid to the clerk who was employed by this Judge, and this act is now to validate the Judge's action. Do you see anything wrong with the proposition? It merely applies to our own county.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 926, as follows:

An Act providing for real estate deputy sheriffs in counties of the first and second classes and fixing their salaries payable by said counties and repealing section two of an act approved the twenty-fourth day of May one thousand eight hundred and eighty-seven (Pamphlet Laws one hundred eighty-five) entitled "An act authorizing the sheriffs of the several counties of this Commonwealth to appoint by deed chief deputies with power to act as sheriff in case of and during the temporary disability of the sheriff to act in person and fixing the salaries of such chief deputies in counties containing more than five hundred thousand inhabitants" and other acts general special or local so far as inconsistent herewith

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That in counties of the first and second classes each sheriff may have a real estate deputy to take charge of all matters relating to sheriff's sales of real estate and distributions of the proceeds thereof whose appointment shall be made and be revocable by writing signed by the sheriff duly recorded in the office for recording deeds for the proper county which deputy shall have full power to perform all duties incumbent upon the sheriff in like manner as his chief deputy with like effect in law as if such official acts had been done by the sheriff in person including the execution and acknowledgment of sheriff's deeds for real estate upon receipt of the purchase price thereof Provided That nothing in this act shall operate to relieve the sheriff or his sureties from liability upon their official bonds to the Commonwealth but such liability shall continue as heretofore

Section 2 In counties of the first class the real estate deputy shall receive seven thousand five hundred dollars per annum in counties of the second class six thousand dollars per annum which salaries shall be paid by said counties in the same manner as the salaries of other deputies are payable

Section 3 Section two of an act approved the twenty-fourth day of May one thousand eight hundred and eighty-seven (Pamphlet Laws one hundred eighty-five) entitled "An act authorizing the sheriffs of the several counties of this Commonwealth to appoint by deed chief deputies with power to act as sheriff in case of and during the temporary disability of the sheriff to act in person and fixing the salaries of such chief deputies in counties containing more than five hundred thousand inhabitants" and all other acts general special or local so far as inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed but this act shall not affect the act approved the twenty-third day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three (Pamphlet Laws three hundred forty-nine) entitled "An act empowering any chief deputy appointed by deed of any sheriff in any county of this Commonwealth to perform any duty incumbent upon such sheriff until a written revocation of such appointment be recorded with like effect as if such official act had been done by the sheriff in person regardless of the ability or temporary disability of such sheriff to act while such sheriff continues in office"

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1076, as follows:

An Act providing a fixed charge payable by the Commonwealth on lands acquired by the State and the Federal Government for forest reserves or for the purpose of preserving and perpetuating a portion of the original forests of Pennsylvania and preserving and maintaining the same as public places and parks and the distribution of the same for county school township and road purposes in the counties school districts and township where such forests are located

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That from and after the passage of this act all lands heretofore or hereafter acquired by the Comonwealth or by the Government of the United States for forest reserves or National forest monuments or for the purpose of preserving and perpetuating any portion of the original forests of Pennsylvania and preserving and maintaining the same as public places and parks and which by existing laws are now exempt from taxation and all lands and property heretofore or hereafter acquired for the purpose of conservation of water or to prevent flood conditions upon which a tax is imposed by existing laws payable by the Commonwealth shall hereafter be subject to an annual charge of one per cent per acre for the benefit of the county in which said lands are located two cents an acre for the benefit of the schools in the respective school districts in which such lands are located and two cents per acre for the benefit of the roads in the township where such lands are located which charge shall be payable by the Commonwealth

Section 2 The Secretary of Forests and Waters shall certify to the respective counties school districts and townships throughout the Commonwealth in which such lands are located the number of acres owned by the Commonwealth and the United States Government in each county school district or township upon application to the treasurer or road supervisors of any of the said counties school districts or townships and the charge against the same and shall furthermore certify to the State Treasurer the number of acres as aforesaid and the charge against the same and in favor of the respective counties school districts and townships The State Treasurer shall upon requisition of the Secretary of Forests and Waters and the warrant of the Auditor General pay to the several counties school districts and townships the amounts due the same from the Commonwealth and derived under this act upon due application therefor made by the treasurers or road supervisors of the said counties school districts and townships

Section 3 That the following acts of Assembly are hereby repealed absolutely

The act approved the fifth day of April one thousand nine hundred and five (Pamphlet Laws one hundred eleven) entitled "An act providing a fixed charge on lands acquired by the State for Forestry Reserves and the distribution of revenue so derived for school and road purposes"

The act approved the thirteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and nine (Pamphlet Laws seven hundred forty-four) entitled "An act providing a fixed charge on lands acquired by the State for forest reserves and the distribution of the same for school purposes in the townships and boroughs wherein State reserves are located"

The act approved the twentieth day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one (Pamphlet Laws one thousand thirty-four) entitled "An act to provide for the payment of moneys to school districts the taxes of which are reduced by the acquisition of lands and property by the Commonwealth for the conservation of water and to prevent flood conditions"

The act approved the eighteenth day of April one thousand nine hundred and nineteen (Pamphlet Laws seventy-eight) entitled "An act providing a fixed charge on lands acquired by the State to be held as State forests and the distribution of the same for county purposes within the counties where State forests are located"

All other acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

NAYS—2.

Donnell, Patterson, F. W.,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it without amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1242 (Senate Bill No. 30), entitled:

An Act to repeal the act approved the thirteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-seven (Pamphlet Laws nine hundred ninety-two) entitled "An act prohibiting cities, boroughs, towns and townships to increase or diminish the salary compensation or emoluments of elected officers after their election," so far as the same relates to cities of the second class.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. DONNELL. Mr. Speaker and ladies and gentlemen of the House, it seems that when it comes down to repealing bills that we think, from the way we have been voting, that all legislation in the past has been bad. I feel that we should give as much consideration and thought to the repeal of legislation that has been enacted as we should to new legislation.

We have before us at this time a repeal bill from the Senate. This bill, if I understand it correctly, removes that prohibition in the city of the second class regulating salaries of elective officers. At the present time no official can be elected and have his salary paid while in office from that election. That same thing applies to this body that applies to all city officials. It applies in all other cities, and while there may be some justification for this bill, I know not what it is. I would like to go on record, if you please, with the statement that Pittsburgh is within the boundaries of Pennsylvania, and while I am a State official I propose to be interested in all legislation for the city, for if it is wrong for a State official to have his salary raised while he is serving from any legislation passed, I think it is the same thing in every city, and for that reason I am going to vote no, and I see no reason now why we should repeal this bill.

Mr. MARCUS. In 1927 the councilmanic bill pertaining to Allegheny County and the salary of members of council were increased from $6500.00 to $8000.00. The money is derived from Allegheny County, and therefore is not a State matter. The fact of the matter is, when this bill was passed in 1927 the members whose terms were expiring and who were re-elected received $8000.00, and the old members only received $6500.00. The only purpose of this bill is to put all of the members of council on the same salary of $8000.00. It is merely a corrective measure, and I see no reason why the members of this House should not give this measure favorable consideration, as it is only a matter of correcting a situation giving all the members of council $8000.00 instead of some of them receiving only $6500.00 and others $8000.00. It makes the pay uniform, and I ask for your favorable consideration.

Mr. DONNELL. I would be willing to go along with that proposition if it was only council that was mentioned in this bill, but it does not mention council; it says "elective officers."

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

Shall the bill pass finally?

NAYS—3.

Brown, T. J.,	Donnell,	Patterson, F. W.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it without amendment.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mrs. PITTS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The lady will state her question of personal privilege.

Mrs. PITTS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I would like to ask the unanimous consent of the House to extend the privilege of the floor to the Honorable Harry A. Mackey.

The SPEAKER. The Chair will ask Mrs. Pitts and Mrs. Pennock to escort the Mayor of Philadelphia, the Honorable Harry A. Mackey, to the rostrum.

It affords the Chair pleasure at this time to introduce to the members of the House of Representatives, as well as our assembled guests, a former Commissioner of Labor and Industry of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and at present it is his honor, the Mayor of the City of Philadelphia, the Honorable Harry A. Mackey.

REMARKS BY THE HONORABLE HARRY A. MACKEY.

HONORABLE HARRY A. MACKEY. Mr. Speaker and ladies gentlemen, this is not the first time in my life that a woman has taken advantage of me and brought me to the altar, but I assure you that it is a new experience to have two women to lead you to the altar. My first experience was so many years ago that I am not going to confess to the number, when for the first time in my life I think I was embarrassed before a great audience. I stood with my back to that audience. That was the first experience in my life when I was dealing with a strange audience that I stood with my back turned toward it, and when the divine proceeded very solemnly and said, "Is there anyone here who has aught to say why this man and woman should not be joined together," I trembled with my back toward the audience because I didn't really know who was there at all.

Ladies and gentlemen of the House of Representatives, I appreciate this great honor. I appreciate it in my official capacity, and I know you are paying this respect to the chief executive officer of the city of Philadelphia.

I came up from Philadelphia this morning with several hundred, I might advisedly say, very sober-minded people, who are interested in pending legislation, and, as I said at luncheon today, they came to the State capitol not because they feared that the traditions of Pennsylvania would be violated by the present session in the slightest degree, but they thought that it was very fitting that a testimonial of appreciation to the lawmakers of Pennsylvania be just sort of staged here in Harrisburgh, because of the things that you have done and the assurances that they think they have of the things that you will not do.

We in Philadelphia are proud of Pennsylvania, and let me take advantage of this opportunity in the name of the People of Philadelphia to extend greetings to Pennsylvania's distinguished representatives in this House. We in Philadelphia, while we enjoy the distinction of being the third largest city in the United States and the first city in size in Pennsylvania, feel that you appreciate us up here and that you know Philadelphia by contact with our distinguished members who are here.

I want to present to you the felicitations of two million or more people who are devoted to the civil occupations of life, who are devoting as they now are their activities to industry, to art, to music and to science, and who are developing the great gateway to the world which is yours as much as Philadelphia.

I want to ask you members to come to Philadelphia at any time as the guests of our city. It will be my pleasure to take you from shrine to shrine, which belong to you. We feel a great responsibility in Philadelphia as the guardian of the sacred shrines of liberty that are dear to the heart of every true American citizen, although we don't boast of it, because we admit our responsibility for their care for the Nation.

We want to express to you the great appreciation we feel in our heatrs for the beneficial legislation you have given us the opportunity to live under and to thrive under.

In conclusion I might say we are satisfied as we are. We think you have given us a great portfolio of laws in the past, and we are very well satisfied if you don't give us any more for sometime to come.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Mr. NOTHNAGLE. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time House Bill No. 800, file folio 749 on page 14 of to-day's calendar, bills on final passage postponed.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. Nothnagle,

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 800, entitled:

An Act to amend section three of the act approved the thirty-first day of March, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-seven (Pamphlet Laws 91), entitled, "An act, relating to municipal indebtedness; imposing certain powers and duties upon the Department of Internal Affairs, and the officers of counties, cities of the third class, boroughs, towns, townships, school districts of the second, third and fourth classes and poor districts, in connection with proceedings to incur and increase indebtedness; and the establishing and maintaining of sinking funds; fixing the maximum maturity of refunding bonds; and providing penalties."

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE.

Mr. NOTHNAGLE. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed third reading be reconsidered.

Mr. THOMAS J. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. NOTHNAGLE. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendment at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendment as follows:

Amend section 1, page 3, lines 4 to 10, by striking out all the words after the word "municipality" in line 4.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendment at this time?

Is there any objection? The Chair hears none and the amendment will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1388, (Senate Bill No. 217), entitled:

An Act to amend the last two paragraphs of section thirteen of the act approved the tenth day of July, one thousand nine hundred and nineteen, (P. L. 857), entitled "An act to provide for the personal registration of electors as a condition of their right to vote at elections, and their enrollment as members of political parties as a further condition of their right to vote at primaries, in cities of the first class of this Commonwealth, by removing from office all existing registration commissioners and their appointees in said cities, and authorizing the Governor to appoint registration commissions therein; defining the jurisdiction of said commissions, and the powers and duties of the commissioners constituting same, and of their appointees, including registrars, inspectors of registration, clerks, and counsel; fixing their qualifications, terms of office, and compensation; granting them certain immunity from arrest on registration days; and empowering such inspectors to arrest without warrant certain persons committing certain offenses in violation of this act in their presence, as well as to enter and inspect buildings given as residences of electors to interrogate the inmates thereof, to copy or demand a list of the lodgers therein, and to supervise the conduct of registrars; regulating the registration of electors at polling places by registrars, and at the offices of commissions by commissioners, and the right of parties or bodies of electors to have watchers thereat, and the preparation and use of street lists and other records of those registered; allowing the names of persons not entitled to vote to be struck from the registers in certain cases; permitting all records regarding registration to be inspected and copied by any elector under certain conditions; directing how the registers shall be used at elections and primaries; compelling the attendance of witnesses and payment of witness fees; and providing penalties for refusal to obey subpoenas; directing receivers of taxes to appoint chief clerks of commissions as deputies to collect poll taxes and to give receipts therefor; authorizing such clerks to administer oaths, sign subpoenas and vouchers; and to collect and disburse witness fees; prescribing a method for challenging persons applying for registration, and the procedure for the correction of registers, and for appealing from actions of registrars to said commission; and allowing for appeals from the decisions of the commissions in certain cases to courts of common pleas; imposing certain duties upon election officers and upon the councils, treasurers, controllers, receivers of taxes, police officers and other officials of said cities and upon the courts, judges, prothonotaries, sheriffs, commissioners, peace officers, and other officials of the judicial districts and counties in which said cities are situated or with which they are coextensive legalizing certain acts required hereby if done on any Sunday or legal holiday; requiring said cities to provide for the maintenance of said commissions, and the compensation of their appointees, and the payment of all expenses necessary to carry out the provisions of this act, and to transfer the unexpended balances of all appropriations heretofore made for the personal registration of electors of said cities during the year one thousand nine hundred and nineteen to and for the use of the said commissions; punishing and fixing penalties for violations hereof; and repealing all legislation inconsistent herewith."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. D. GLENN MOORE. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed upon the postponed calendar.

Mr. HARRY J. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

RESOLUTION RELATIVE TO APPOINTMENT OF COMMISSION TO STUDY CONDITIONS OF HOMES AND SCHOOLS ESTABLISHED FOR CHILDREN OF VETERANS OF CIVIL WAR

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

The Chair hears none.

Mr. DAVIS offered the following resolution, which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, March 13th, 1929.

Whereas, During the period following the Civil War, this Commonwealth established a number of homes and schools for the orphans of veterans; and

Whereas, During the last thirty years, as the need for such homes and schools decreased, all of said homes and schools were abolished except the Pennsylvania Soldiers' Orphans' School, located at Scotland, Franklin County, Pennsylvania; and

Whereas, The capacity for pupils of said school is now only about two hundred and twenty; and

Whereas, There are at present many applications for the admission of students to said school which cannot be accepted because of lack of available accommodations; and

Wheras, It is only reasonable to assume that the number of applications over the next ten years will steadily increase as over a corresponding period following the Civil War; therefore be it

Resolved, (if the House of Representatives concur), That the Governor of this Commonwealth is hereby authorized to appoint a commission, consisting of five citizens of this Commonwealth, all of whom shall have served with the armed forces of the United States during a period when a state of war existed between the United States and another sovereign power, and shall be members of a veterans' organization active in this Commonwealth. The Adjutant General shall be an ex-officio member of said commission.

The commisison shall make a study of conditions relating to veterans' orphans and the dependent children of disabled veterans as to what extent accommodations are not at present available for their care, education and protection; shall compile data, conduct investigations and form estimates on the future needs of such institutions and the best means of meeting such needs, and shall embody their findings in a written report to a General Assembly which shall convene in the year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one, on or before the first day of February of said year, and be it further

Resolved, That the expenses of the commission shall be paid from an item inserted in the general appropriation law to the Department of Military Affairs. The said expenses shall be paid on warrants duly signed by the chairman of the commission and approved by the Auditor General

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. President, I move that Rule 39 which requires current resolutions to be referred to an appropriate committee be suspended and that the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of the resolution just read.

Mr. LESLIE. Mr. President, I second the motion

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. President, this resolution provides that the Governor appoint a committee of five citizens to investigate the capacity of the Schools for Orphans since the World War. The capacity is not enough. The commission reports back to the legislature in 1931. The orphans are accumulating fast and there is no room to take care of them. This resolution was given to me by the American Legion of the State and I ask the members to vote for it this morning.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

ADJOURNMENT.

Mr. LESLIE. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn.

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The Senate adjourned at 11.34 A. M. until 9 o'clock P. M. Monday, March 18, 1929.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

WEDNESDAY, March 13, 1929.

The House met at 11.00 o'clock A. M.

The SPEAKER (Aaron B. Hess) in the Chair

PRAYER.

The Chaplain, Rev. Dr. Martin W. Schweitzer, offered the following prayer:

Eternal God, Father of us all, we bless Thee for the shadow of Thy wings and the light of a new day. May we rejoice and be glad all the day. May the day bring us the privilege to speak some word of cheer. Lord, teach us to pray. Teach us the spirit of prayer. Give us the sense of need and the desire to pray according to our need. Both these graces are gifts that must come from Thee. May prayer become to us an increasing resort and an increasing delight. For every good gift we thank Thee, the Giver. For health and strength, food and raiment, we thank Thee. For homes, hospitals and benevolent institutions we thank Thee. For churches and schools we thank Thee. And grant that finally we may win our way past the cherubim and eat of the Tree of Life which is in the Paradise of God. Through Him we ask. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of yesterday.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of yesterday, when, on motion of Mr. Myers, seconded by Mr. Soffel, the further reading was dispensed with and the Journal approved.

RESOLUTION.

FEDERAL INCOME TAX LAW.

Mr. MUSMANNO offered the following resolution which was twice read and laid over under the rules.

In the House of Representatives, March 13, 1929.

Whereas, the present Federal Income Tax law in its make-up and operation imposes a severe burden on the average wage earner throughout the entire country;

Whereas, while provision is made for exemption of certain securities, for deduction for amortization, depreciation and the allowance for depletion on the basis of discovery value in the cost of mines and oil wells, no provision is made for the gradual depletion of the physical resources of the average wage-earner or man of profession;

Whereas, under the present schedule of rates the Federal Government is placed under an enormous expense in collecting the tax from the vast number of citizens earning but a meager and modest wage;

Whereas, President Hoover has issued a proclamation calling into extraordinary session the 71st Congress of the United States;

Therefore, be it resolved (if the Senate concur) that the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, through the medium of this resolution, go on record as recommending that the Seventy-First Congress take up the question of a revision of the present income tax law to the end that the excessive burdens of wage-earners and men of profession in the United States be ameliorated.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 814, entitled:

An Act to amend section one of the act approved the twenty-first day of April, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one (P. L. 268), entitled "An act relating to police pension funds in cities of the third class and directing such cities to appropriate certain moneys thereto."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BART RICHARDS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Nothnagle, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. NOTHNAGLE. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BART RICHARDS. I would like to ask the gentleman if there is a companion bill being considered to take care of the firemen in cities of the third class similar to the one now under consideration for police.

Mr. NOTHNAGLE. Not that I know of.

Mr. BART RICHARDS. I would like to ask if this one-half of one percentum would not build up an enormous reserve, with no restrictions on it, which would act as a means of building up a fund of far more money than is necessary to pay these pensions?

Mr. NOTHNAGLE. I don't think so.

Mr. BART RICHARDS. Would it not as a matter of fact, one half of one percentum on an assessed valuation on anything under one hundred million dollars or between seventy-five and a hundred; build up an enormous reserve? If it was not checked you would certainly build up in the course of ten years a reserve far in advance of anything that you would need to pay the pensions of your policemen. I am not opposing this bill, but the thing I would like to bring out is this: In cities of the third class your policemen and firemen are on civil service, both alike, and both have their pension fund. Neither of them have a pension fund that is worth considering under the present law. This bill is designed to care for the policemen, but apparently the firemen, who are the same kind of employes of a municipal corporation, are not to be considered. I am asking if there is some provision to be made for the firemen on the same basis as the policemen.

Mr. NOTHNAGLE. Our firemen are volunteer firemen and have their relief fund, but the policemen have not.

Mr. BART RICHARDS. Your volunteer firemen, but your paid firemen do not. Further, your volunteer firemen have a fund that is built up and which cannot be taken over by the paid fire department and leaves the paid fire department out on a limb so to speak.

Mr. NOTHNAGLE. My bill only takes care of the police and they have nothing now and we have a number that should be retired.

Mr. BART RICHARDS. Do you not have the same condition with the firemen?

Mr. NOTHNAGLE. We do not.

Mr. BART RICHARDS. May I ask what city the gentleman represents?

Mr. NOTHNAGLE. The city of Chester.

Mr. BART RICHARDS. Do you not have the same condition under the two per cent for firemen's relief from the foreign insurance premiums. That is for volunteer fire departments and not for paid fire departments?

Mr. NOTHNAGLE. The city does not contribute to that.

Mr. BART RICHARDS. Would not this one-half of one per cent build up a fund which would be much more reserve than you would need? Should there not be a restriction placed on that?

Mr. NOTHNAGLE. It might do that, but I don't think so.

Mr. BART RICHARDS. That is the thing. For instance, if you increase your assessed valuation, if you are endeavoring to get $15,000 or $20,000 a year, or whatever the amount may be, under the provisions of this bill if you increase your assessed valuation you are also increasing the amount of money you are paying to this fund. There is no check on this as to where it will land.

Mr. NOTHNAGLE. In our town it amounts to about $4,000. That is not much to pay to disabled policemen who take a chance of giving up their life and compensation and everything else. I think it is a just bill and I ask you to pass it.

Mr. BART RICHARDS. I agree with Mr. Nothnagle that it is a just bill, but he is not taking care of another class of employes that are in the same position as the policemen. I am not opposing the bill. I am asking for information in order that the matter be carried further. I would ask that it be placed on the postponed calendar and recommitted in order that this matter may be ironed out.

Mr. BART RICHARDS. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Municipal Corporations for the purpose of amendment.

Mr. HARTER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. NOTHNAGLE. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed on the postponed calendar.

Mr. WEIDEMAN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Mr. HAINES. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up House Bill No. 197, file folio 1331, on page 26 of today's calendar, bills on third reading postponed.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. HAINES,

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 197, entitled:

Mr. HAINES. Mr. Speaker, I move that the time on House Bill No. 197, file folio 1331, entitled:

An Act providing for the certification of inspected seed potatoes agricultural and vegetable seeds prohibiting the use of the words "certified" "inspected" "registered" or similar terms in connection with the sale of seed potatoes and agricultural and vegetable seeds unless inspected and certified as provided in this act providing for the enforcement of this act by the Department of Agriculture prescribing penalties and conferring jurisdiction in certain cases upon the courts of Common Pleas

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. HAINES. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

In section 1, page 2, line 5, and following the word "agents" insert the following parenthetical statement—(or by the legally constituted inspection officials of the state in which such seed potatoes or agricultural or vegetable seeds were grown, or by such other agencies as may be approved or recognized by the Department).

Also line 7, page 2, and following the word "Department" add the following: under the provisions of this act. The latter to take the place of that portion on line 7 following the word "Department" and all of lines 8 and 9.

Also the following is recommended as a substitute for Section 4, page 3:

Section 4. It shall be a violation of this act to use the term "certified" or any form or modification of this term which tends to convey to the purchaser of such seed that the same has been certified as defined in Section 1 of this act, on tags or containers, either orally or in writing or in advertising material intended to promote the sale of seed potatoes or agricultural or vegetable seeds or on labels or containers, except when such seed potatoes or agricultural or vegetable seeds shall have been inspected and certified to under the provisions of this act.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendments at this time? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none and the amendments will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, that the bill as amended lie over for printing.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Mr. HAWS asked and obtained unanimous consent to call up out of order House Bill No. 1388, Senate Bill No. 217, file folio 779 on page 25 of today's calendar, bills on final passage postponed.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. HAWS,

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1288, (Senate Bill No. 217), entitled:

An Act to amend the last two paragraphs of section thirteen of the act approved the tenth day of July, one thousand nine hundred and nineteen, (P. L. 857), entitled "An act to provide for the personal registration of electors as a condition of their right to vote at elections, and their enrollment as members of political parties as a further condition of their right to vote at primaries, in cities of the first class of this Commonwealth, by removing from office all existing registration commissioners and their appointees in said cities, and authorizing the Governor to appoint registration commissions therein; defining the jurisdiction of said commissions, and the powers and duties of the commissioners constituting same, and of their appointees, including registrars, inspectors of registration, clerks, and counsel; fixing their qualifications, terms of office, and compensation; granting them certain immunity from arrest on registration days; and empowering such inspectors to arrest without warrant certain persons committing certain offences in violation of this act in their presence, as well as to enter and inspect buildings given as residences of electors to interrogate the inmates thereof, to copy or demand a list of the lodgers therein, and to supervise the conduct of registrars; regulating the registration of electors at polling places by registrars, and at the offices of commissions by commissioners, and the right of parties or bodies of electors to have watchers thereat, and the preparation and use of street lists and other records of those registered; allowing the names of persons not entitled to vote to be struck from the registers in certain cases; permitting all records regarding registration to be inspected and copies by any elector under certain conditions; directing how the registers shall be used at elections and primaries; compelling the attendance of witnesses and payment of witness fee; and providing penalties for refusal to obey subpoenas; directing receivers of taxes to appoint chief clerks of commissions as deputies to collect poll taxes and to give receipts therefor; authorizing such clerks to administer oaths, sign subpoenas and vouchers; and to collect and disburse witness fees; prescribing a method for challenging persons applying for registration, and the procedure for the correction of registers, and for appealing from actions of registrars to said commissions; and allowing for appeals from the decisions of the commissions in certain cases to courts of common pleas; imposing certain duties upon election officers and upon the councils, treasurers, controllers, receivers of taxes, police officers, and other officials of said cities and upon the courts, judges, prothonotaries, sheriffs, commissioners, peace officers, and other officials of the judicial districts and counties in which said cities are situated or with which they are coextensive; legalizing certain acts required hereby if done on any Sunday or legal holiday; requiring said cities to provide for the maintenance of said commissions, and the compensation of their appointees, and the payment of all expenses necessary to carry out the provisions of this act, and to transfer the unexpended balances of all appropriations heretofore made for the personal registration of electors of said cities during the year one thousand nine hundred and nineteen to and for the use of the said commissions; punishing and fixing penalties for violations hereof; and repealing all legislation inconsistent herewith."

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 63, entitled:

An Act to amend a part of section one of the Act approved the tenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one, (P L. 455), entitled "An Act to fix the number of Representatives in the General Assembly of the State, and to apportion the State into representative districts as provided by the Constitution."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. CHAS. C. A. BALDI, JR. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the sponsor of this bill to explain it.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Blair, Mr. Hartsock, explain the bill.

Mr. HARTSOCK. Mr. Speaker and ladies and gentlemen of the House, this bill has come about through the advance or the extension of the city of Altoona. We have added some four square miles to the city of Altoona. Two years ago we annexed certain portions of the second legislative district of Blair County to the city of Altoona which is in the first legislative district. At the last primaries or the last election in Blair County in the second legislative district on two propositions we voted in the city of Altoona and at the last election we annexed over four square miles to the city of Altoona from the second legislative district. Now we have a condition up there that we are intermingled from the second legislative district into the first legislative district. We have created two new wards and are intermingled in these two wards. The question arose after the last election as to the position we were in in Blair County. We took the matter up with the Attorney General and he gave us an opinion that a bill should be drawn for Blair County, at the present time, in order that the legislature might correct the situation in accordance with the Constitution. The Constitution provides in Article 2, Section 17, "Every city containing a population equal to a ratio shall elect separately its proportion of the representatives allotted to the county in which it is located."

Mr. BART RICHARDS. Mr. Speaker, what is the ratio?

Mr. HARTSOCK. The ratio is about forty-one thousand in Blair County. The city of Altoona now has as intermingled with the first and second legislative districts about ninety-some thousand. The second legislative district in making this new apportionment would make it about fifty-seven thousand for the second legislative district. In changing this, we feel that it is only proper to give the city of Altoona, or the first legislative district, two members. I would ask your unanimous vote of "aye" on this bill.

Mr. STERLING. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Blair.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman permit himself to be interrogated further?

Mr. HARTSOCK. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. STERLING. If I understand correctly, the gentleman's reading of the provisions of the Constitution, there is some reference to the apportionment, that is, that the legislative apportionment is affected by the population. Is that true?

Mr. HARTSOCK. Yes, sir, that is true.

Mr. STERLING. Are you not of the opinion that it would be much more wise and economical if your bill were postponed until after the next census which is now almost on top of us?

Mr. HARTSOCK. In answer to that I would say this: That the condition that confronts us is that we will have to have separate election boards for both the first and second district and which will affect about seven of the city wards. I have the opinion of the Attorney General which I would be glad to read to you if you desire.

Mr. STERLING. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I believe that every county ought to know pretty nearly what it should have for its own good and benefit, but it does seem to me that it would be unwise to arrange for any legislative apportionment in any counties or districts in this Commonwealth, when, as I said a moment ago, we are almost now entering into that time that the decennial census will be taken by the United States Government. For that reason I believe that this legislation, no matter how meritorious it may be, is unwise.

MOTION TO POSTPONE.

Mr. HARTSOCK. Mr. Speaker, I move this bill be placed on the postponed calendar.

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman from Blair what the Attorney General of the Commonwealth had to say in regard to this matter. Will the gentleman from Blair communicate the information.

Mr. HARTSOCK. I will gladly do so. This is the letter:

"November 28, 1928.

"I am in receipt of your letter of the twenty-fourth regarding the legislative apportionment in Blair County. In reply to same would say that the legislative districts remain the same as the municipal action in no way changes those districts. Therefore, the district will remain the same as at present and it will be necessary to have legislative action.

"Ordinarily there is no re-apportionment until after the census. Mr. Fertig, however, thinks that an amendment can be drawn to the last apportionment bill so that the legislative districts in Blair County can be changed in order that the territory recently taken into Altoona will be included in that legislative district. This amendment will provide therefore that two legislators be elected from the Altoona or first district and that one be elected from the second district."

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. WHEELER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order. I believe there is a motion before the House.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman is informed that the motion was not seconded.

Mr. PERRY. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was not agreed to.

SENATE MESSAGE.

RESOLUTION FOR CONCURRENCE.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, presented an extract from the Journal of the Senate, which was read as follows:

In the Senate, March 13, 1929.

Whereas, During the period following the Civil War, this Commonwealth established a number of homes and schools for the orphans of veterans; and

Whereas, During the last thirty years, as the need for such homes and schools decreased, all of said homes and schools were abolished except the Pennsylvania Soldiers' Orphans' School, located at Scotland, Franklin County, Pennsylvania; and

Whereas, The capacity for pupils of said school is now only about two hundred and twenty; and

Whereas, There are at present many applications for the admission of students to said school which cannot be accepted because of lack of available accommodations; and

Whereas, It is only reasonable to assume that the number of applications over the next ten years will steadily increase as over a corresponding period following the Civil War; therefore be it

Resolved, (if the House of Representatives concur), That the Governor of this Commonwealth is hereby authorized to appoint a commission, consisting of five citizens of this Commonwealth, all of whom shall have served with the armed forces of the United States during a period when a state of war existed between the United States and another sovereign power, and shall be members of a vetrans' organization active in this Commonwealth. The Adjutant General shall be an ex-officio member of said commission.

The commission shall make a study of conditions relating to veterans' orphans and the dependent children of disabled veterans as to what extent accommodations are not at present available for their care, education and protection; shall compile data, conduct investigations and from estimates on the future needs of such institutions and the best means of meeting such needs, and shall embody their findings in a written report to a General Assembly which shall convene in the year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one, on or before the first day of February of said year, and be it further

Resolved That the expenses of the Commission shall be paid from an item inserted in the general appropriations law to the Department of Military Affairs. The said expenses shall be paid on warrants duly signed by the chairman of the commission and approved by the Auditor General.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

On the question,

Will the House concur in the resolution of the Senate?

It was concurred in.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE.

Mr. GEORGE W. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which House Bill No. 1299, file folio 2211, entitled:

An Act to amend section seventeen hundred and twelve of article seventeen of the act approved the fourth day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-seven (Pamphlet Laws five hundred nineteen) entitled "An act concerning boroughs and revising amending and consolidating the law relating to boroughs" passed finally today, be reconsidered.

Mr. E. P. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. GEORGE W. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed on the postponed calendar.

Mr. PETHICK. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Session 1929 — 128th of the General Assembly

Vol. 11 — HARRISBURG, MONDAY, MARCH 18, 1929 — No. 24

SENATE.

MONDAY, March 18, 1929.

The Senate met at 9 o'clock P. M.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Arthur H. James) in the Chair.

PRAYER.

The Chaplain, Rev. Christian H. Shirk, offered the following prayer:

Thou Supreme Ruler of this Universe, we realize that Thy laws exist for the promotion of righteousness and justice and for the suppression of that which is iniquitous. May the laws enacted by our legislative bodies likewise have as their object the promotion of that which is righteous and just, and the making it difficult for those who fail to observe just laws.

We pray Thy blessing tonight to rest upon our penal and reform institutions, and especially upon those to whom is delegated the difficult task of giving them oversight. We ask that the influence of their lives may be an uplift to those committed to their care; and may those thus committed engage in reflections which will lead them to a better citizenship.

Grant that our social order may so improve that we may have a constantly decreasing number of moral delinquents, and have an increasing number of those who engage in good citizenship.

Grant that we may all merit Thy favor and Thy good pleasure.

We ask in Thy most holy name. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED.

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

RESOLUTION RELATIVE TO APPOINTMENT OF COMMISSION TO STUDY CONDITIONS OF HOMES AND SCHOOLS ESTABLISHED FOLLOWING THE CIVIL WAR.

He also informed the Senate that the House has concurred in Resolution from the Senate as follows:

In the Senate, March 13, 1929.

Whereas, During the period following the Civil War, this Commonwealth established a number of homes and schools for the orphans of veterans; and

Whereas, During the last thirty years, as the need for such homes and schools decreased, all of said homes and schools were abolished except the Pennsylvania Soldiers' Orphans' School, located at Scotland, Franklin County, Pennsylvania; and

Whereas, The capacity for pupils of said school is now only about two hundred and twenty; and

Whereas, There are at present many applications for the admission of students to said school which cannot be accepted because of lack of available accommodations; and

Whereas, It is only reasonable to assume that the number of applications over the next ten years will steadily increase as over a corresponding period following the Civil War; therefore be it

Resolved, (if the House of Representatives concur), That the Governor of this Commonwealth is hereby authorized to appoint a commission, consisting of five citizens of this Commonwealth, all of whom shall have served with the armed forces of the United States during a period when a state of war existed between the United States and another sovereign power, and shall be members of a veterans' organization active in this Commonwealth. The Adjutant General shall be an ex-officio member of said commission.

The commission shall make a study of conditions relating to veterans' orphans and the dependent children of disabled veterans as to what extent accommodations are not at present available for their care, education and protection; shall compile data, conduct investigations and form estimates on the future needs of such institutions and the best means of meeting such needs, and shall embody their findings in a written report to a General Assembly which shall convene in the year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one, on or before the first day of February of said year, and be it further

Resolved, That the expenses of the commission shall be paid from an item inserted in the general appropriation law to the Department of Military Affairs. The said expenses shall be paid on warrants duly signed by the chairman of the commission and approved by the Auditor General.

RESOLUTION RELATIVE TO ADMISSION OF STUDENTS TO MEDICAL SCHOOLS.

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced, presented from the Journal of the House, which was twice read as follows, and referred to the Committee on Education

In the House of Representatives, March 11, 1929.

Whereas A large number of the youth of Pennsylvania having completed the scholastic requirements for admission to the medical schools of our Commonwealth and desiring to continue the study of the science of the healing arts are unable to secure admission into the medical schools located in the Commonwealth and

Whereas The General Assembly at each biennial session appropriates large sums of money to universities or colleges having medical schools therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur) That the University of Pennsylvania Jefferson Medical College Womans Medical College of Pennsylvania Hahnemann Medical College Temple University all of Philadelphia and the University of Pittsburgh Pittsburgh Pennsylvania shall submit without delay the following information to the General Assembly of the State of Pennsylvania First the number of students that sought admission to the one thousand nine hundred and twenty-eight freshman class of their medical school second the number of medical students admitted to the one thousand nine hundred and twenty-eight freshman class of their medical school and third the number of such medical students admitted to the one thousand nine hundred and twenty-eight freshman class of their medical school who are residents of Pennsylvania and be it further

Resolved That the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives forward a copy of these resolutions to the deans of the medical schools hereinbefore mentioned

RESOLUTION RELATIVE TO FEDERAL INCOME TAX LAW.

He also presented extract from the Journal of the House, which was twice read as follows, and referred to the Committee on Federal Relations.

Whereas The present Federal Income Tax law in its make-up and operation imposes a severe burden on the average wage earner throughout the entire country

Whereas While provision is made for exemption of certain securities for deduction for amortization depreciation and the allowance for depletion on the basis of discovery value in the cost of mines and oil wells no provision is made for the gradual depletion of the physical resources of the average wage-earner or man of profession

Whereas Under the present schedule of rates the Federal Government is placed under an enormous expense in collecting the tax from the vast number of citizens earning but a meager and modest wage

Whereas President Hoover has issued a proclamation calling into extraordinary session the seventy-first Congress of the United States

Therefore Be it resolved (if the Senate concur) that the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania through the medium of this resolution go on record as recommending that the Seventy-first Congress take up the question of a revision of the present income tax to the end that the excessive burdens of wage-earners and men of profession in the United States be ameliorated

The House met at 9.00 o'clock P. M.

The SPEAKER (Aaron B. Hess) in the Chair.

PRAYER.

The Chaplain, Rev. Dr. Martin W. Schweitzer, offered the following prayer:

Throughout another week, O God, Thou hast crowned our lives with Thy goodness and caused our cup to overflow. Our Heavenly Father, we would love Thee with all our heart, soul, mind and strength. We have often fallen short through lack of understanding and absorption in many things. We pray for Thy pardoning grace. Forgive us, O God. Underneath all superficial differences of opinion or practice, our faith is one, our religious experience one. When we take counsel together it is sweet. When we work together it is for a common end.

So the walls of partition are crumbling. Let us therefore be charitable in the things wherein we differ. Let us love one another even as Thou hast loved us.

"Love divine, all love excelling,
"Joy of heaven, to earth come down;
"Fix in us Thy humble dwelling,
"All Thy faithful mercies crown."

Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of Wednesday, March 13, 1929.

An Act amending section one of an act, entitled, "An act authorizing corporations, organized for profit, to purchase, hold, sell, assign, transfer, mortgage, pledge, or otherwise dispose of, the shares of capital stock of, or any bonds, securities or evidences of indebtedness created by, any other corporation," approved the second day of July, A. D. one thousand nine hundred and one (Pamphlet Laws six hundred and three), so as to include corporations, either public or private, of this or any other State, or of the United States of America, or of any territory or dependency thereof, or of any foreign country or any subdivision or agency thereof, and to validate all purchases, sales, assignments, transfers, mortgages, pledges, or other disposition thereof at any time heretofore made.

Whereupon,

The SPEAKER, in the presence of the House, signed the same.

RESOLUTION NO. 17.

Mr. BATCHELOR. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up Resolution No. 17, file folio 2371.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the resolution.

The Clerk read the resolution as follows:

In the House of Representatives March 11 1929

Whereas A large number of the youth of Pennsylvania having completed the scholastic requirements for admission to the medical schools of our Commonwealth and desiring to continue the study of the science of the healing arts are unable to secure admission into the medical schools of the Commonwealth and

Whereas The General Assembly at each biennial session appropriates large sums of money to universities or colleges having medical schools therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur) That the University of Pennsylvania Jefferson Medical College Womans Medical College of Pennsylvania Hahnemann Medical College Temple University all of Philadelphia and the University of Pittsburgh Pittsburgh Pennsylvania shall submit without delay the following information to the General Assembly of the State of Pennsylvania First the number of students that sought admission to the one thousand nine hundred and twenty-eight freshman class of their medical school second the number of medical students admitted to the one thousand nine hundred and twenty-eight freshman class of their medical school and third the number of such medical students admitted to the one thousand nine hundred and twenty-eight freshman class of their medical school who are residents of Pennsylvania and be it further

Resolved That the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives forward a copy of these resolutions to the deans of the medical schools hereinbefore mentioned

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. BATCHELOR. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I would like to explain the meaning of this resolution. This resolution is just seeking information and surely there is no member of this House but what would be willing to receive information on any matter that might be of interest to the people of this Commonwealth and to the General Assembly of Pennsylvania.

This resolution in the first place calls for information as to the number of boys and girls who have completed the scholastic requirements necessary for admission into the medical schools of Pennsylvania; in other words, the boys and girls who may have denied themselves the necessities of life in order to study the preliminaries of the medical profession, and after spending two or three or four years in that preliminary study, seek admission into the medical schools of Pennsylvania only to find that the bars of those schools have been raised against them. I understand that at the University of Pittsburgh last year some six hundred and fifty students applied for admission into the medical classes of that school and that perhaps only sixty of that six hundred and fifty boys have been admitted.

In the second place, the resolution asks for information as to the number of medical students admitted into the medical schools of Pennsylvania.

In the third place; practically ten per cent. of the boys who seek admission and who are admitted into the medical schools of Pennsylvania—we have reason to believe that a large number of these boys come from states other than Pennsylvania.

After taking care of imported football athletes and taking care of the boys who have political and other influences behind them, which secures their admission, a number of students are left who are without an opportunity for admission.

I have acted in good faith in presenting this resolution. I just want to read the closing remarks of one of the most eloquent addresses ever delivered before any legislative body in the world. That address was delivered on the floor of this House by Thaddeus Stevens in the session of 1840 and he closed that address with these words, "So cast your votes that the blessings of education shall be conferred upon every son of Pennsylvania, shall be carried home to the poorest of the poorest inhabitant, of the meanest hut of your mountains, so that even he may be prepared to act well his part in this land of free men, and lay on earth a broad and solid foundation for that enduring knowledge which goes on increasing throughout Eternity."

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Batchelor anl Mr. Peck and were as follows:

RESOLUTION NO. 18.

Mr. MUSMANNO. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up Resolution No. 18, file folio 3059.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the resolution.

The resolution was read as follows:

Whereas The present Federal Income Tax law in its make-up and operation imposes a severe burden on the average wage earner throughout the entire country

Whereas While provision is made for exemption of certain securities for deduction for amortization depreciation and the allowance for depletion on the basis of discovery value in the cost of mines and oil wells no provision is made for the gradual depletion of the physical resources of the average wage-earner or man of profession

Whereas Under the present schedule of rates the Federal Government is placed under an enormous expense in collecting the tax from the vast number of citizens earning but a meager and modest wage

Whereas President Hoover has issued a proclamation calling into extraordinary session the seventy-first Congress of the United States

Therefore be it resolved (if the Senate concur), That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania

through the medium of this resolution go on record as recommending that the Seventy-First Congress take up the question of a revision of the present income tax to the end that the excessive burdens of wage-earners and men of profession in the United States be ameliorated

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

The resolution was adopted.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE.

Mr. RHODES. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed on third reading be reconsidered.

Mr. YERG. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the house agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. RHODES. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend section 1, page 2, line 20, by striking out the dark faced brackets before and after the words "two hundred and fifty" and insert in lieu thereof light faced brackets.

Amend section 1, page 2, line 20, by underscoring the words "one thousand."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendments at this time? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none and the amendments will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 197, as follows:

An Act providing for the certification of inspected seed potatoes, agricultural and vegetable seeds; prohibiting the use of the words "certified" "inspected" "registered" or similar terms in connection with the sale of seed potatoes and agricultural and vegetable seeds unless inspected and certified as provided in this act; providing for the enforcement of this act by the Department of Agriculture; prescribing penalties; and conferring jurisdiction in certain cases upon the Courts of Common Pleas.

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the term "Department" as used in this act shall mean the Department of Agriculture of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania

The term "certified seed" as used in this act shall include seed potatoes and such agricultural or vegetable seeds as shall have been inspected during their period of growth and preparation for market by the Department or its authorized agents (or by the legally constituted inspection officials of the state in which such seed potatoes or agricultural or vegetable seeds were grown or by such other agencies as may be approved or recognized by the Department) and found to be reasonably free from diseases and other defects as specified in the rules and regulations issued by the Department under the provisions of this act and for which a certificate has been issued as provided in section two of this act

The term "seed potatoes" as used in this act shall be construed to mean the tubers of the Irish potato which are grown and intended to be used as seed

The term "agricultural seeds" shall include all seeds which are commonly known as farm crop seeds which are grown and intended to be used as seed in raising farm crops

The term "vegetable seeds" shall include all seeds which are commonly known as vegetable seeds and which are grown and intended to be used as seed in raising garden and truck crops

Section 2 Any grower of potatoes agricultural or vegetable seeds located in Pennsylvania may make application to the Department for inspection and certification of his crop for seed purposes under such rules and regulations as the Department may issue

The Department or its authorized agents shall issue such certificates of inspection and designate or provide such official tags for marking containers of "certified seed" and establish such standards of grade and quality as are necessary to safeguard the privileges and service provided for in this act

Section 3 The Department shall have authority to fix assess and collect or cause to be collected fees for the certification inspection service authorized by this act the same to be paid in such manner as it may direct Such fees shall be large enough to meet the reasonable expenses incurred by the Department or its agents in making such inspections as may be necessary for certification Fees so collected shall be paid by the Department into the State Treasury through the Department of Revenue

Section 4 It shall be a violation of this act to use the term "certified" or any form or modification of this term which tends to convey to the purchaser of such seed that the same has been certified as defined in section one of this act on tags or containers either orally or in writing or in advertising material intended to promote the sale of seed potatoes or agricultural or vegetable seeds or on labels or containers except when such seed potatoes or agricultural or vegetable seeds shall have been inspected and certified to under the provisions of this act

Section 5 Authority to make all necessary rules and regulations to carry out the provisions of this act is hereby conferred on the Department

Section 6 Any person copartnership association or corporation and any officer agent servant or employe thereof violating any of the provisions of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and on conviction shall be sentenced to pay a fine of not more than two hundred dollars ($200.00) for each offence All fines collected under this act shall be paid to the Department and shall be by it paid into the State Treasury through the Department of Revenue

Section 7 The Department shall be charged with the enforcement of this act and shall furnish the Department of Justice with information of violations of the provisions thereof The Attorney General may in the name of the Commonwealth institute proceedings in equity in the Court of Common Pleas of any county for the purpose of enjoining the use of the words "certified" "inspected" "registered" or any other term or terms conveying a meaning substantially equivalent to these terms contrary to the provisions of this act and for such purpose jurisdiction is hereby conferred upon said court In any such case the Attorney General shall not be required to give bond

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Mr. STERLING. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up House Bill No. 52, file folio No. 651, bills on final passage postponed, on page 30 of today's calendar.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. STERLING,

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 52, entitled:

An Act supplementing existing laws relating to the returns of aldermen, justices of the peace and committing magistrates of transcripts of their dockets, et cetera.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. STERLING. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this bill you recall is one that was on the third reading calendar on the fifth of March and was defeated, and then upon motion in this House it was reconsidered and finds itself upon the postponed calendar.

You will recall that I, at that time, explained to you that this was a measure which provides a method of bringing about the proper return by magistrates, aldermen and justices of the peace by petition of the district attorney to the quarter sessions court. The bill covers only delinquencies by magistrates, who would not return the proper transcript or the return of a recognizance or in the return of cash bail. The bill does not change the present statutory law under which magistrates and justices and aldermen are required to make these returns, but under the existing law in the event that a magistrate is delinquent in the making of these returns the only way he can be made to make proper return according to law is to be indicted.

This bill will avoid the necessity of the indictment of a delinquent magistrate and will simply place the matter before the courts and have him comply with the order of the court. I would submit to this House that this measure deserves the favorable consideration of every member.

Mr. PERRY. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I opposed this bill when it was on third reading and final passage the day it was defeated. I have had no occasion up to the present time to change my mind upon this piece of legislation. It is a practice that is already being complied with as far as the magistrates of the city I come from are able to do, and therefore I think that this is an unnecessary piece of legislation and I call upon all members of this House to do the same as you did on March fifth or whatever date it was, and vote this bill down.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this bill is not a bill that deals with Philadelphia only. It is a bill that applies to the whole State. It is a bill which would change the custom heretofore of a magistrate or a justice of the peace who might probably change his mind, probably have a rehearing of the case, probably listen to additional evidence that he hears two or three days later. That custom has been a good custom. It has worked out well and served the ends of justice well and I cannot see any necessity to change the time-honored custom and practice that has been in force for many years and therefore I ask you to vote "No" on this bill.

Mr. STERLING. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I could offer no better argument for the passage of this measure than the argument made by my friend from Philadelphia, Mr. Sowers, and I submit to the consideration of this House by what authority a magistrate, alderman or justice of the peace should ask that he be relieved from complying with the law.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. EDWARD BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. EDWARD BROWN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, we have been in past years appropriating many millions of dollars for various purposes in this State, and in checking over some of these accounts to find out just exactly what the appropriations are for and how they are handled I find that there is very little information to be obtained from the reports of returns from these institutions. At this time I would like to offer a resolution.

RESOLUTION.

INFORMATION FROM STATE-AID INSTITUTIONS.

Mr. EDWARD BROWN asked and obtained unanimous consent to offer a resolution, which was twice read as follows:

In the House of Representatives, March 18, 1929.

Whereas, There exists in this Commonwealth a large number of privately owned and controlled hospitals and homes of a charitable or semi-charitable nature, and which are the recipients of financial aid from this Commonwealth and are therefore termed State-aid institutions; and

Whereas, Although millions of dollars are appropriated at every session of the General Assembly to such institutions, there is little control over such institutions by the Government of this Commonwealth; therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the President Pro Tempore of the Senate shall appoint two Senators and the Speaker of the House of Representatives shall appoint three Members of the House of Representatives, who, together with the Secretary of the Department of Welfare, ex-officio, shall constitute a commission to investigate the hospitals and homes in this Commonwealth receiving State aid, as to the control, operation, percentage of free or charitable service rendered, and need for State aid by such institutions. The members of the commission shall receive no compensation for their services, but shall be allowed the actual traveling and other necessary expenses incurred in the performance of the duties, and be it

Resolved, That said commissioners shall make a full report in writing to a General Assembly which shall convene in the year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one, on or before the first day of February of said year, and be it further

Resolved, That the expenses of the commission shall be paid from an item inserted in the General Appropriation Law to the Department of Welfare. The said expenses shall be paid on warrants duly signed by the chairman of the commission and approved by the Auditor General.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. EDWARD BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent for the immediate adoption of the resolution.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give its unanimous consent for the adoption of the resolution at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears objection and unanimous consent is not granted.

Ordered, That the resolution lie over for printing.

BILL ON SECOND READING.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 789, entitled:

An Act creating in Cities of the First Class a Bureau of Building Inspection Regulating the Erection Enlargement Alteration Repair Moving Removal Demolition and Inspection of Buildings and other Structures and the Erection Encroachment Extension Repair Inspection and Use of Party Walls Defining Certain Words and Terms Used Repealing Conflicting Legislation and Providing Penalties for Violations of this act

The first section was read as follows:

Section 1 Enactment Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That there shall be in cities of the first class a Bureau of Building Inspection attached to the Department of Public Safety and under the supervision and control of the Director of Public Safety

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

BILL RECOMMITTED.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Judiciary Special for the purpose of amendment.

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

An Act to provide for the conveyance of lands or mineral rights when a contract has been made therefor and the wife refuses to sign the deed

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That whenever any owner of land or lands or mineral rights in this Commonwealth has contracted or shall hereafter contract in writing to sell such lands or mineral rights or any part thereof and the wife of such owner shall refuse to sign the deed to convey the lands or mineral rights contracted to be sold it shall be lawful for such grantor or the grantee in such agreement to file a bill in equity in the Court of Common Pleas of the County in which such land or lands and mineral rights are situate setting forth that the grantor has contracted in good faith with the grantee and for a valuable consideration in said agreement to sell such lands or mineral rights attaching a copy of such agreement describing the property to be conveyed with the price to be paid therefor and that the agreement is made in good faith and not to defraud the wife of any interest such wife may have in such property and that the price to be paid is a fair market price therefor which said bill in equity shall be served on the adverse party as bills in equity are now served and if the defendant in such bill shall fail to answer said bill and deny the facts therein contained within sixty days after said bill is served on the defendant the said Court shall enter a decree authorizing and directing the grantor in said agreement to convey the land or lands or mineral rights contracted to be sold with the same force and effect as if the wife had joined in such conveyance and the grantee of such premises shall pay the purchase price to the grantor and such grantee shall not be required to look to the distribution or application of said money and the title so conveyed shall vest the title of said premises in the grantee free and discharged from any claim or demand of such wife

Section 2 If the wife in such proceeding shall answer such bill of complaint and traverse the facts therein alleged and shall further set forth any other or further reasons why said conveyance should not be made then the Court shall within ten days after such answer is filed fix a date not less than thirty days or more than sixty days after such answer is filed to hear and determine all questions raised in the pleadings in the case In such action both husband and wife shall be a competent witness to testify against each other as to the matters in controversy

Section 3 After hearing the parties and their witnesses the Court shall make a decree in the premises as the rights of the parties may appear and if it appears to the Court that the agreement between the grantor and grantee is a fair and equitable agreement and should be executed between them but that such sale might prejudice the future rights of such wife then the Court shall make such division of the purchase price of said property as to him will seem fair and equitable either by directing such interest to be paid to the contending party absolutely or to be invested in such manner as the Court may decree for the best interests of the plaintiff and defendant or their family

Section 4 Either party shall have a right to appeal to either the Superior Court or Supreme Court of Pennsylvania in the same manner as now fixed for appeals

Section 5 If any section or part of any section of this act shall be declared unconstitutional by the Courts of this Commonwealth it shall not in any wise impair or destroy the validity of any other part of this act not so found to be unconstitutional and such remaining part of this act shall be and remain in full force and virtue in this Commonwealth

Section 6 All acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to ,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

MOTION TO RE-COMMIT.

Mr. MILLAR. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Banks and Banking for the purpose of amendment.

Mr. MUMFORD. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. ROOT. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, may I ask you to vote this motion to recommit down. This bill was introduced in the early part of this session, it has been under consideration by the Committee on Banks and Banking for almost two months; has been considered by the Secretary of Banking, who has prepared a number of amendments which were introduced tonight. No earthly purpose can be served by recommitting this bill. If there are any arguments against this measure this is the place to submit them, and I will ask the members of the House to vote this motion down.

Mr. CHARLES C. A. BALDI. Mr. Speaker, as Chairman of the Committee on Banks and Banking, this bill was reported out with the understanding that after second reading it would be recommitted for the purpose of amending it in committee. I therefore ask you to support Mr. Millar in his motion to recommit the bill.

Mr. ROOT. Mr. Speaker and members of the House. I am sorry that I have to disagree with the chairman of the committee. The bill was given a first reading and at the suggestion of the chairman it was recommitted for the purpose of amendment. The amendments there were prepared by the Banking Department. At the meeting of the Committee on Banks and Banking those amendments were discussed in detail and the committee voted to report the bill out as amended. I can see no reason, therefore, to recommit this bill, and I ask the members of this House to vote this motion down.

Mr. MILLAR. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the only reason that I made the motion to recommit the bill was because I think the bill is not in proper shape as it now stands, and I think it can be made so that it would commend itself to the favorable consideration of the House if the Committee on Banks and Banking reconsider it.

Mr. ROOT. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Millar?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Millar, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MILLAR. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. ROOT. Does the gentleman from Philadelphia know when this bill was first introduced?

Mr .MILLAR. I do not, but if I look at the calendar I can tell.

Mr. ROOT. Does the gentleman from Philadelphia have any amendments to offer to this bill?

Mr. MILLAR. I do.

Mr. ROOT. Will the gentleman read the amendments?

Mr. MILLAR. The amendment would be to put the bill back in its original form, taking out the fifty percent. and putting in lieu thereof twenty per cent.

Mr. ROOT. When the bill was originally drawn the Secretary of Banking said that there was some merit to it but that certain amendments should be introduced to meet the objections of that department. I thought that the Secretary of Banking knew more about that particular subject than I did, and I was willing, at the suggestion of the Committee, particularly Mr. Millar of that committee, and the Chairman of that Committee, to follow the suggestions of the Secretary of Banking. I can see no reason, except for the purpose of pickling this bill, to have it recommitted tonight.

Mr. CHAS. C. A. BALDI. Mr. Speaker, There is no thought of pickling this bill. Mr. Cameron, the Banking Commissioner, was down and explained before the committee, just what he wanted. There were a few suggestions and amendments that were to be put in it, and then there were other amendments to come in. We agreed to send the bill out on the floor for two readings, at which time it was to be recommitted for the purpose of amending it in committee, and I really and truly think it should go back to the committee for amendment.

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the suggestion as to an amendment to be made by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Millar, tonight Mr. Root offered an amendment to the bill changing the fifty per cent. to twenty per cent. and it now stands as amended in that manner.

May I interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Millar?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Millar, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MILLAR. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BLUMBERG. Are there any other amendments to be offered to this bill?

Mr. MILLAR. The twenty per cent. that you have referred to as an amendment, that was put in the bill in the committee, and that is not the amendment that I speak of.

Mr. BLUMBERG. Does the gentleman from Philadelphia mind explaining the amendment that he refers to.

Mr. MILLAR. The amendment that I refer to occurs in the second and third lines of the bill as originally introduced and provides for twenty per cent. of the assets instead of fifty per cent. and leaves the rest of the bill as it was originally.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would inform the members of the House that the position of the bill at this time is this: Amendments have been offered to the bill and the amendments are now before the House for consideration. The amendments should be disposed of before the Chair entertains a motion for recommitting the bill.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

The Speaker declared the "ayes" appear to have it,

Whereupon a division was called for, one hundred twenty-six gentlemen voting in the affirmative and six in the negative, the amendments were agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section as amended?

It was agreed to.

The second section was read and agreed to as follows:

Section 2 All acts and parts of acts inconsistent with this act are hereby repealed

The title was read as follows:

An Act authorizing building and loan associations to invest moneys in securities designated by law for the investment of trust funds.

On the question,

Will the House agreed to the title?

Mr. ROOT. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendments.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk.

The amendments were read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend title, page 1, line 2, by inserting after the word "in" the word "certain"

Amend title, page 1, line 2, by striking out all of the title after the word "securities."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to,

On the question,

Will the House agree to the title as amended?

It was agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to as amended.

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

MOTION TO RE-COMMIT.

Mr. MILLAR. I move to recommit this bill to the Committee on Banks and Banking for the purpose of amendment, as it was understood that it was to be recommitted when it came out, after second reading.

Mr. LUCAS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. ROOT. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, may I again ask you to vote this motion down. No purpose can be served by recommitting this bill. The measure is a meritorious one, and if there are any arguments to be submitted against this bill, this is the place to do it. May I ask you, therefore, to vote this motion to recommit down.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The Speaker declared the "ayes" appear to have it,

Whereupon, a division was called for, fifty-seven members voting in the affirmative and eighty-two in the negative, and the motion was not agreed to.

BILL STRICKEN FROM CALENDER.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 1056 file folio 2129 entitled:

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

Legislative Journal.

Session 1929 — 128th of the General Assembly

Vol. 11 — HARRISBURG, TUESDAY, MARCH 19, 1929 — No. 25

SENATE.

TUESDAY, March 19th, 1929.

The Senate met at 10:30 o'clock A. M.

The PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE (Mr. Horace W. Schantz) in the Chair.

PRAYER.

The Chaplain, Rev. Christian H. Shirk, offered the following prayer:

Thou God of wisdom and of grace, Thou art possessed of infinite intelligence and wisdom, and we feel that we are so circumscribed in knowledge and in wisdom; yet we thank Thee that Thou hast created us with the capacity for intelligence, for the acquisition of wisdom and moral stamina.

We pray Thy blessing to rest on all the educative agencies of our Commonwealth and of our nation, so that there may come to the American people that which is necessary in the way of intelligence for the exercise of their sovereign right in self-government. We pray that this endowment which comes to us may be dedicated to the higher ends of our being and not to be selfishly used.

We ask for all of these mercies in Thy most holy name. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED.

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. FAY, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

BILLS SIGNED.

The PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE (Mr. Horace W. Schantz) announced that the Chief Clerk having reported that the following bills had passed both Houses of the General Assembly and the same being correct, the titles were publicly read as follows:

TIME OF NEXT MEETING.

Mr. FAY offered the following resolution, which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate March 19, 1929.

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), that when the Senate and House adjourn this week they reconvene on Monday evening, March twenty-five at nine o'clock.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

MOTION TO PROCEED TO CONSIDERATION OF BILLS ON SECOND READING.

Mr. HOMSHER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of bills on second reading.

Mr. FREEMAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON SECOND READING.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 33, as follows:

An Act relating to the paving repaving and repairing and maintenance of streets and highways and other public places on which street railways now are or may hereafter be operated and defining the duties and obligations with respect thereto of counties cities boroughs townships municipalities the Commonwealth and all other subdivisions and agencies thereof and of corporations owning leasing or operating street railways on such streets highways and other public places

Whereas changing economic conditions both as to travel on and construction of various public thoroughfares have resulted in unexpected increased costs and unreasonable burdens upon street railways affecting their service rates and facilities to the detriment of the public welfare

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That every corporation owning leasing or operating a street railway upon any street or highway or other public place in the Commonwealth shall repair paving which it may disturb in the construction maintenance or removal of its tracks or other structures in such street or highway or other public place

Section 2 Whenever any street highway or any public place upon which street railway tracks are laid or shall hereafter be laid shall be paved repaved or repaired the cost of such paving repaving or repairing shall be borne by such of the counties cities boroughs townships municipalities the Commonwealth or other subdivision or agency thereof as would be responsible or liable therefor in the absence of all paving repaving or repairing obligations contractual or otherwise of the corporation owning leasing or operating such street railway provided however that the corporation owning leasing or operating such street railway shall at its sole expense put its track and track structures in good operating condition

Section 3 This act shall not affect any provision contained in any contract or agreement made by any corporation owning leasing or operating such street railway in satisfaction in relief or in lieu of paving repaving or repairing obligations theretofore imposed nor any such provision as shall be contained in any such contract hereafter made by such corporation nor shall this act be construed to impose or have the effect of imposing on any street railway corporation any new or additional paving repaving or repairing obligations in addition to those now existing and nothing in this act contained shall be so construed as to relieve any corporation owning leasing or operating a street railway from the obligation imposed by any contract heretofore or hereafter made with any municipality to repair or replace paving upon the removal of the tracks of such railway from the public highway or the abandonment of service thereover

Section 4 That no corporation owning leasing or operating a street railway in this Commonwealth shall be required to pave repave or repair or maintain or to pay the cost of paving repaving repairing or maintenance of any portion of the street or highway or other public place in which its tracks are laid except as herein set forth

Section 5 All acts and parts of act inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 379, as follows:

An Act to amend paragraph two section nine article four and paragraph three section fourteen article four of the act approved the ninth day of June one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws seven hundred fifty-six) entitled "An act to provide for the health and safety of persons employed in and about the bituminous coal mines of Pennsylvania and for the protection and preservation of property connected therewith" as amended

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That paragraph two section nine article four of the act approved the ninth day of June one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws seven hundred fifty-six) entitled "An act to provide for the health and safety of persons employed in and about the bituminous coal mines of Pennsylvania and for the protection and preservation of property connected therewith" which was amended by section one of the act approved the seventh day of April one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five (Pamphlet Laws one hundred seventy-five) entitled "An act to amend paragraph two section nine article four paragraph three section fourteen article four and sections one and three of article ten of an act approved the ninth day of June one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws seven hundred and fifty-six) entitled 'An act to provide for the health and safety of persons employed in and about the bituminous coal mines of Pennsylvania and for the protection and preservation of property connected therewith'" is hereby further amended to read as follows

In such portion of a dry and dusty mine where explosive gas is being generated in quantities sufficient to be detected by an approved safety lamp the mine foreman shall direct and see that the rooms and entries are moistened by water or other efficient means as often as necessary to keep the dust in damp condition and he shall direct and see that the dust is loaded and taken out of the mine as often as necessary [Provided however That the above provisions shall not prohibit the substitution for water of any other substance which will render coal dust on the sides bottom and timbers inert to explosibility]

In lieu of the above provisions rock dust may be substituted for or used in conjunction with water under the following conditions The rock dust to be used shall be pulverized so that one hundred per cent will pass through a sieve having twenty meshes per lineal inch and fifty per cent or more will pass through a sieve having two hundred meshes per lineal inch It shall not contain more than five per cent combustible matter nor more than twenty-five per cent of quartz or free silica particles and not be unduly absorbent of moisture Preference shall be given to the lighter colored rock dust

The rock dusting shall be done with such regularity and frequency that all surfaces required to be rock dusted shall be kept in such a condition that the incombustible content of the adhering dust shall not be less than fifty-five per cent

The rock dust shall be distributed on top bottom and sides of all main haulages and all entries to the last open cut-through and to the first cut-through in all rooms and pillar workings and in all return airways where hauling or traveling is done

In other places in which no traveling except by mine officials or in which no hauling is done the rock dust may be distributed by the air current or other means provided that the amount specified in this act is distributed or such places may be protected by rock dust barriers which shall be subject to the approval of the mine inspectors as to design and location When such barriers are installed the amount of rock dust used shall be at least one hundred (100) pounds per square foot of average cross section of entry at the barrier zone The barriers shall be maintained at all times in workable condition and inspected monthly and a report of such inspection showing the condition of the barrier shall be entered on the space provided for such purpose in the book furnished by the Department of Mines for recording the rock dust samples

The superintendent shall see that a sufficient number of samples of dust are gathered each month from the road roof rib and timbers on each split of air and tested to determine if any part of the mine required redusting and a record shall be kept in a book provided for that purpose showing the location at which samples have been taken and the results of the analyses or tests The book shall be furnished by the Department of Mines in the same manner as is provided for the record books of the mine officials When the working faces of entries airways rooms and other working places are kept damp by watering as provided in this article the outbye portions of such places when required shall be treated with rock dust or water

If in the judgment of the Mine Inspector of the district any mine or portion of a mine is of such a dry and dusty nature as to cause a hazard from coal dust he shall direct that the said mine or portion of a mine be rock dusted or watered as provided in this article However should the operator superintendent or mine foreman of any mine be dissatisfied with the decision of the mine inspector in regard to the watering or rock dusting of any mine or portion of a mine it shall be the duty of the dissatisfied person to appeal from such decision to the Secretary of Mines who shall at once direct two or more of the other inspectors to accompany promptly the inspector of the district to make further examination into the matter in dispute If the said inspectors shall agree with the decision of the inspector of the district their decision shall be final unless the dissatisfied person shall within seven days of the receipt of the decision of the committee of inspectors appeal therefrom to the court of quarter sessions of the county in which said mine is situated whereupon the court or the judges appoint a commission of five persons as required by article ten of this act and thereafter the proceedings had shall be as prescribed by sections one and two of said article ten

Section 2 That paragraph three section fourteen article four of said act which was amended by section two of said amending act is hereby further amended to read as follows

No shot-firer or any person shall fire a shot in any working place in any mine if his safety lamp can detect explosive gas at the roof In gaseous dusty mines in which approved locked safety lamps are used he shall fire no holes unless the entries and rooms which are dry and dusty are so thoroughly wetted as to prevent the existence of any dry dust for a distance of not less than eighty feet from the hole to be fired unless the dust is rendered inert to explosibility by [some other means] rock dust Provided however That in all mines wherein the coal is being blasted from the solid the mine foreman shall direct and see that the provisions of this section are fully complied with

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in committee of the whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 380, as follows:

An Act to amend Rule Twenty-five of Article Twenty-five of the act approved the ninth day of June one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws seven hundred fifty-six) entitled "An act to provide for the health and safety of persons employed in and about the bituminous coal mines of Pennsylvania and for the protection and preservation of property connected therewith"

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That Rule Twenty-five of Article Twenty-five of the act approved the ninth day of June one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws seven hundred fifty-six) entitled "An act to provide for the health and safety of persons employed in and about the bituminous coal mines of Pennsylvania and for the protection and preservation of property connected therewith" is hereby amended to read as follows

Rule Twenty-five In [gaseous] all mines shot firers or other persons charging holes for blasting shall use incombustible material for tamping All holes before being fired shall be solidly tamped the full length of the hole Provided however That with the consent of the mine inspector "cushion" or "air" blasting shall be permitted Any person who violates this rule shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the While being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 381, as follows:

A Supplement to an act approved the second day of June one thousand eight hundred and ninety-one (Pamphlet Laws one hundred seventy-six) entitled "An act to provide for the health and safety of persons employed in and about the anthracite coal mines of Pennsylvania and for the protection and preservation of property connected therewith" by regulating the installation and operation of electrical equipment in anthracite coal mines

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the following words terms and phrases used in this act are for the purposes hereof defined as follows

Potential The term "potential" and "voltage" are synonymous and mean electric pressure

Difference of potential The term "difference of potential" means the difference of electrical pressure existing between any two points of an electrical system or between any point of such system and the earth as determined by a voltmeter

Potential of a circuit The potential or voltage of a circuit machine or any piece of electrical apparatus is the potential normally existing between the conductors of such circuit or the terminale of such machine or apparatus

A Where the conditions of supply of electricity are such that normally the difference of the potential between any points in the circuit does not exceed three hundred twenty-five (325) volts the supply shall be deemed a low voltage

B Where the conditions of supply of electricity are such that the difference of potential between any two points in the circuit may at any time exceed low voltage but normally does not exceed six hundred fifty (650) volts the supply shall be deemed medium voltage

C Where the conditions of the supply of electricity are such that the diffference of potential between any two points in the circuit at any time exceeds medium voltage the supply shall be deemed a high voltage

Grounding Grounding any part of an electric system shall consist in so connecting such part to the earth as will insure at all times a proper path for the immediate discharge of electrical energy

Explosion or flame-proof casings or enclosures are those which when completely filled with a mixture of methane and air and the same exploded are capable of either entirely confining the products of such explosion within the casing or of so discharging them from the casing that they can not ignite a mixture of methane and air combined in the proportion most sensitive to ignition and entirely surrounding the points of discharge and in most intimate proximity therewith

Underground stations An underground station is herein considered as any place underground where electrical machinery including transformers is permanently installed

Section 2 In the installaton and operation of electricity and electrical equipment in antharcite coal mines the following rules shall be observed as far as practicable by the owner operator mine superintendent or person charged with such installation or operation

SPECIAL RULES.

Special Rules Governing the Installation of Electricity in Anthracite Mines of Pennsylvania The following rules shall be observed as far as reasonably practicable in the mines

1 All electrical apparatus and conductors shall be sufficient in power and size and of proper design for the work they may be called upon to do and as hereinafter prescribed sufficiently protected efficiently covered or safe-guarded and so installed worked and maintained as to reduce danger from accidental shock or fire to the minimum and shall be of such construction and so worked that the rise in temperature caused by ordinary working will not injure the insulating materials

2 No higher voltage than medium voltage shall be used underground except for transmission or for application to transformers or other apparatus in which the whole of the high voltage circuit is stationary

3 When high voltage cables are taken into the mine through shafts slopes and other man traveling ways to an underground station from which point low or medium voltage may be conveyed mechanically protected cables shall be used or cables so constructed as to reduce the hazard of accidental shock to a minimum Where not so constructed or mechanically protected high voltage cables may be taken into the mine by way of bore holes shafts slopes drifts tunnels and gangways through which no employes travel

4 In gaseous mines high voltage transmission cables shall be installed in the intake airways or bore holes and high voltage motors and transformers shall be installed only in underground stations ventilated by the intake air which has not passed through or by a gaseous district

PRECAUTION AGAINST SHOCK.

5 Gloves or mats of rubber or other suitable insulating material shall be provided and used by persons so engaged when repairs are made to the live parts of any electrical apparatus or when the live parts of electrical apparatus have to be handled for the purpose of adjustment

6 At every colliery where electricity is used below ground for power there shall be available a competent electrician who shall have full charge of the electrical apparatus in the mine but who shall be subject to the authority of the mine foreman

7 Instructions shall be posted in every generating transforming and motor room and at the entrance to the mine containing directions as to the restoration of persons suffering from electrical shock and all employes working in connection with electrical apparatus shall be familiar with and know how to carry out these instructions

8 In the event of a brakedown or of damage or of injury to any portion of the electrical equipment in a mine or of over-heating or of the appearance of sparks or arcs outside of enclosing casings or in the event of any portion of the equipment not a part of the electrical circuit becoming alive in every such occurrence the current shall be immediately cut off and the mine foreman shall be promptly notified of the same

Underground Stations

9 In underground stations where switchboards are installed there shall be a passageway in front of the switchboard not less than three (3) feet in the clear

When medium voltage is used insulation floors or mats shall be provided where live metal work is on the front of the board

When high voltage is used there shall be no live mental at high voltage on the front of the main switchboard within seven (7) feet of the floor or platform and the space back of the board shall be kept locked but the lock shall allow of the door being opened from the inside without the use of a key and the floor back of the board shall be made of incombustible material

10 No person other than one authorized by the mine foreman shall enter an underground station or interfere with the working of an apparatus connected therewith

11 Fire buckets filled with clean dry sand or other standard extinguishers for electrical fires shall be kept in underground stations ready for immediate use in extinguishing fires

Transmission Circuits and Conductors

12 Medium or low pressure conductors may be bare except in gaseous portions of the mine

13 Every branch power circuit shall be provided at the point where it leaves the main circuit with an adequate switch on each ungrounded pole

14 In underground roads the trolley wires shall be installed as far to one side of the passageway as is practicable and securely supported on insulated hangers and placed at such intervals that the sag between points of support shall not exceed three (3) inches The sag between points of support can exceed three (3) inches if the height of the trolley wire above the rail is five (5) feet or more and does not touch the roof when the trolley passed under it

15 All other wires except telephone shot firing and signal wires shall be on the same side of the road as the trolley where practicable

16 At all landings and partings where men are required to regularly work or pass under trolley or other bare power wires which are placed less than six and one-half (6½) feet above

top of rail a suitable protection shall be provided This protection may consist of channeling the roof placing boards along the wires which shall extend below them or the use of other approved devices that afford protection

17 All underground power wires and cables in hoisting shaft or manway compartments shall be highly insulated and substantially fixed in position Shaft cables not capable of sustaining their own weight shall be properly supported at intervals according to the weight of the cables Where the cables are not completely boxed in and protected from falling material space shall be left between them and the sides of the shaft so that they may yield when struck and thus lessen the blow given by the falling material

18 Where the cables or feed wires other than trolley wires in main haulage roads cannot be kept at least twelve (12) inches from any part of the mine car or locomotive they shall where practicable be specially protected by guards

19 When main or other roads are being repaired or blasting is being carried on suitable temporary protection from damage shall be given the cables

20 Trailing cables for portable machines shall be specially flexible heavily insulated and protected with extra stout braiding hose pipe or other equally effective covering

21 Each trailing cable in use shall be daily examined by the machine operator for abrasions and other defects and he shall also be required to carefully observe the trailing cable while in use and shall at once report any defect to the mine foreman or his representative

22 In the event of the trailing cable in service breaking down or becoming damaged in any way or of its inflicting a shock upon any person it shall be at once put out of service The faulty cable shall not again be used until it has been repaired and tested by a properly authorized person

23 In gaseous portions of mines a fixed terminal box shall be provided at the points where trailing cables are attached to the power supply. This terminal box shall be flame proof and shall contain a switch and fuse on each pole of the circuit The switch shall be so arranged that it can only be operated from without the box when the latter is completely closed and the switch shall also be so constructed that the trailing cables cannot be detached or removed when the switch is closed

Switches Fuses and Circuit Breakers

24 All points at which a circuit other than a signal circuit have to be made or broken shall be provided with proper switches The use of hooks or other makeshifts is prohibited except that connection for gathering locomotives or locomotives and machines used in driving headings or rooms may be made to the trolley by means of suitable hooks Switches shall be so installed that they cannot be closed by gravity In any gaseous portion of a mine switches circuit breakers or fuses shall not be of the open type but shall be enclosed in explosion-proof casings or break under oil

Motors

25 In any gaseous portion of a mine where gas is likely to be encountered no open type stationary electric motor may be used if the air circulating in that part of the mine contains more than one and one-half per cent of methane If the air contains more than one and one-half per cent of methane then open type stationary electric motors may be used if placed in rooms which are separately ventilated with intake air If the methane content of the air circulating in a section exceeds one and one-half per cent then all stationary electric motors used in such cases shall have all of their current carrying part also their starters terminals and concestions completely enclosed in explosion-proof enclosures made of non-inflammable material These enclosures shall not be opened except by an authorized person and then only when the power is switched off The power shall not be switched on while the enclosures are open

26 Motors used for operating fans in non-gaseous mines when they are so situated that they are not under supervision of a competent man shall be totally enclosed (not necessarily explosion-proof) unless placed in a chamber or passageway completely lined with incombustible material and the chamber or passageway itself free from combustible material

27 In working places where gas is likely to be encountered a safety lamp or other suitable apparatus for the detection of explosive gas shall be provided for use with each machine when working and should any indication of explosive gas appear on the flame of the safety lamp or other apparatus used for the detection thereof the person in charge shall immediately stop the machine cut off the current at the nearest switch and report the matter to the mine foreman

28 No man shall be placed in charge of a coal cutting machine in any gaseous portion of a mine who is not a competent person capable of determining the safety of the roof and sides of the working place and detecting the presence of explosive gas

29 In any gaseous portion of a mine a coal cutting machine shall not be brought within the last break-through next the working face until the machine man shall have made an inspection for gas in the place where the machine is to work unless such examination is then made by some other competent person authorized or appointed for that purpose by the mine foreman If any explosive gas is found in the place the machine shall not be taken in

30 No coal cutting machine shall be continued in operation in a gaseous portion of a mine for a longer period than half an hour without an examination as above described being made for gas and if gas is found the current shall at once be switched off the machine and the trailing cable shall forthwith be disconnected from the power supply

31 The person finding gas shall at once report the fact to the fire boss or mine foreman and the machine shall not again be started in such place until the fire boss or a person duly authorized by the mine foreman has examined it and pronounced it safe

32 The person in charge of a coal cutting machine or drilling machine shall not leave a machine while it is working and shall before leaving the working place see that the current is cut off the trailing cables

33 In any gaseous portion of a mine if an electric sparking or arc be produced outside of coal cutting or other portable motor or by the cable or rails the machine shall be stopped and not be worked until the defect is repaired and the occurrence shall be reported to the mine foreman

Electric Locomotives

34 Electric haulage by locomotives operated from a trolley wire is not permissible in any part of any mine if the methane in the air circulating in that part of the mine exceeds one and one-half (1½) per cent

35 In no case shall the potential used in the trolley system be higher than medium voltage

36 Storage battery locomotives may be used in gaseous portions of mines only when all electrical parts that it is practicable to inclose are enclosed in flame and explosion-proof casings

Electric Lighting

37 Arc lamps shall not be used in gaseous mines except under conditions where trolley locomotives are allowable

38 If arc lamps are used in the mines they shall be of the enclosed arc type

39 In all non-gaseous portions of mines the sockets of fixed incandescent lamps connected to open wiring shall be of the so-called "weather proof" type the exterior of which shall be entirely non-metallic Flexible lamp connections are prohibited except for portable lamps as hereinafter provided

40 In any gaseous portion of a mine except where ventilated by fresh intake air incandescent lamps shall be protected by gas-tight fittings of strong glass

41 Incandescent lamps shall be so placed that they cannot come in contact with combustible material

42 Portable incandescent lamps other than battery lamps shall not be used except in connection with the repair and inspection of machines and equipment and then only in non-gaseous portions of mines When so used they shall be protected by a heavy wire cage completely enclosing both lamp and socket and shall be provided with a handle to which both cage and socket are firmly attached and through which the leading-in wires are carried

43 Electric lamps shall be placed by a competent person only and in gaseous portions of a mine only after an examination for gas has been made with a safety lamp

Shot Firing by Electricity.

44 Electricity from any grounded circuit shall not be used for shot firing

45 When shot firing cables or wires are used in the vicinity of power or lighting conductors special precaution shall be taken to prevent the shot firing cables or wires from coming in contact with the light power or any other circuit

46 Any miner or any person who has the necessary training and skill and who has been properly instructed in the work and duly authorized by the mine foreman shall be allowed to fire shots electrically in any mine

47 Portable shot firing machines sometimes called generators shall be enclosed in a tightly constructed case when employed in any portion of the mine All contacts when made or broken shall be within the case except that the binding posts for making connections to the firing leads may be outside

48 All portable devices for generating or supplying electricity for shot firing when in a mine shall be in charge of the person firing the shots

49 No firing machine or battery shall be connected to the shot firing leads until all other taps preparatory to the firing of shot have been completed and all persons have moved to a place of safety

50 Immediately after the firing of a shot the firing lead shall be disconnected from the supply or source of electricity and no person shall approach a shot which has failed to explode until the firing leads have been so disconnected from the device and an interval of five (5) minutes has elapsed since the last attempt to fire the shot

Electric Signalling

51 All proper precautions shall be taken to prevent electric signal and telephone wires from coming in contact with other electrical conductors whether insulated or not

52 Bells wires insulators contact-makers and other apparatus used in connection with electric signalling underground shall be of suitable design of substantial and reliable construction and erected in such manner as to reduce the liability of failure or false signals to a minium

53 In any gaseous portion of a mine the potential used for signalling purposes shall not exceed twenty-four (24) volts and bare wires shall not be used for signal circuits except in haulage roads

Electric Relighting of Safety Lamps

54 If in any place or portion of a mine in which safety lamps are used they are relighetd underground by electricity the mine foreman shall select a suitable station or stations not being in the return airway and where there is not likely to be any accumulation of inflammable gas and no electric relighting apparatus shall be used in any other place All electric relighting apparatus shall be securely locked and shall not be available for use except by persons authorized by the mine foreman to relight safety lamps and such persons shall examine all safety lamps brought for relighting before they are reissued

Any person who neglects or refuses to perform any duty required of him by this act in the installation or operation of electrical equipment or permits the installation or operation of such equipment other than in the manner herein prescribed or intentionally violates any of the provisions of this act regulating the use of electricity and electrical equipment shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars or undergo imprisonment not exceeding three months or both at the discretion of the court

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 382, as follows:

An Act to amend sections nine and ten of article four and rules nine ten and twelve of article twelve of the act approved the second day of June one thousand eight hundred and ninety-one (Pamphlet Laws one hundred seventy-six) entiled "An act to provide for the health and safety of persons employed in and about the anthracite coal mines of Pennsylvania and for the protection and preservation of property connected therewith"

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That section nine of article four of the act approved the second day of June one thousand eight hundred and ninety-one (Pamphlet Laws one hundred seventy-six) entitled "An act to provide for the health and safety of persons employed in and about the anthracite coal mines of Pennsylvania and for the protection and preservation of property connected therewith" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 9 The owner operator or superintendent of any coal mine or colliery which is worked by shaft or slope shall provide and maintain a telephone or suitable appliance by or through which conversation can be held by and between persons at the bottom and at the top of the shaft or slope and also an efficient means of signaling from the bottom of such shaft or slope to the engineer in charge of the hoisting engine The owner operator or superintendent of every coal mine or colliery shall provide and maintain a telephone by or through which conversation can be had between persons on the outside of the mines and the principal centers of operations in the mines

Section 2 That section ten of article four of said act is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 10 Hand rails and efficient safety catches shall be attached to and a sufficient cover overhead shall be provided on every cage used for lowering or hoisting persons in any shaft the owner operator or superintendent of all mines shall see that the surface and all other landings of shafts are provided with gates which are controlled by the operation of the shaft carriages Such gates before being used shall be first approved by the mine inspector. It shall be unlawful for the owner operator or superintendent of any mine where coal or other material is hoisted by shaft to employ a man as a footman unless the said man is equipped with a safety headgear or helmet which shall be worn at all times while on duty

Section 3 That rule nine of article twelve of said act is hereby amended to read as follows

Rule 9 [In every working approaching any place where there is likely to be an accumulation of explosive gases or in any working] In each part of all mines in which danger is imminent from explosive gases no light or fire other than a locked safety lamp or a locked safety lamp and electric lamp both of a type which shall be first approved by the Department of mines shall be allowed or used in such part Whenever safety lamps or electric lamps are required in any mine or part thereof they shall be the property of the owner of said mine and a competent person who shall be appointed for the purpose shall examine every safety lamp and electric lamp immediately before it is taken in to the workings for use and he shall ascertain [it to be] that all safety lamps are clean safe and securely locked and safety lamps and electric lamps shall not be used until they have been so examined and found safe and in the case of safety lamps clean and securely locked unless permission be first given by the mine foreman to have the safety lamps used unlocked

Section .. That rule ten of article twelve of said act is hereby amended to read as follows

Rule 10 No one except a duly authorized person shall have in his possession a key or any other contrivance for the purpose of unlocking any safety lamp in any mine where locked safety lamps or electric lamps are used [No lucifer matches or any other apparatus for striking light shall be taken into said mine or parts thereof] It shall be unlawful for any person or persons working in a mine or portion of a mine which is worked by locked safety lamps or locked safety lamps and electric lamps to carry into the mine matches smokers articles or any other material or article which may cause fire And to prevent such articles being carried into a dangerous mine or section thereof the mine foreman when he sees fit shall cause a search of the men for such articles

Section 5 That rule twelve or article twelve of said act is hereby amended to read as follows

The mine foreman or his assistant shall visit and examine every working place in the mine every working day [at least one every alternate day] while the men of such place are or should be at work and shall direct that each and every working place is properly secured by props or timber and that safety in all respects is assured by directing that all loose coal or rock shall be pulled down or secured and that no person shall be permitted to work in an unsafe place unless it be for the purpose of making it secure Providing however if the mine is idle forty-eight hours or more the mine foreman or his assistant shall examine every working place the day before operations are resumed

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in committee of the whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 616, (House Bill No. 531), entitled:

An Act relating to, regulating and validating the issue of certificates of stock by companies incorporated under the laws of this Commonwealth.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

BILL OVER IN ORDER.

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. President, I ask that Senate Bill No. 892 (House Bill No. 915), on second reading, entitled:

An Act relating to the finances of the State government: providing for the settlement, assessment, collection, and lien of taxes, bonus, and all other accounts due the Commonwealth; the collection and recovery of fees and other money or property due or belonging to the Commonwealth or any agency thereof, including escheated property and the proceeds of its sale; the custody and disbursement or other disposition of funds and securities belonging to or in the possession of the Commonwealth and the settlement of claims against the Commonwealth; the resettlement of accounts, and appeals to the courts; refunds of moneys erroneously paid to the Commonwealth; auditing the accounts of the Commonwealth, and all agencies thereof, of all public officers collecting moneys payable to the Commonwealth or any agency thereof, and all receipts of appropriations from the Commonwealth; and imposing penalties; affecting every department, board, commission and officer of the State government, every political subdivision of the State and certain officers of such subdivisions, every person, association and corporation required to pay, assess or collect taxes or to make returns or reports under the laws imposing taxes for State purposes or to pay license fees or other moneys to the Commonwealth, or any agency thereof, every State depository and every debtor or creditor of the Commonwealth.

go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILLS ON SECOND READING.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senat Bill No. 919, as follows:

An Act to amend section two hundred and two hundred and two of the act approved the fourteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five (Pamphlet Laws seven hundred sixty-two) entitled "An act concerning poor relief and the creation and government of poor districts and the administration of the same in all counties of the Commonwealth except in counties of the first and second class and revising amending consolidating and changing the law relating thereto" as amended by removing the exemption of the county of Clinton retaining the existing poor districts and the existing number of directors overseers and authorities in charge of said districts the manner of their election or appointment and the administrative system of giving poor relief thereby creating a county poor district administered by County Commissioners

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That section two hundred of the act approved the fourteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five (Pamphlet Laws seven hundred sixty-two) entitled "An act concerning poor relief and the creation and government of poor districts and the administration of the same in all counties of the Commonwealth except in counties of the first and second class and revising amending consolidating and changing the law relating thereto" as amended by the act approved the twenty-fourth day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-seven (Pamphlet Laws sixty-three) entitled "An act to amend section two hundred and two hundred and two of the act approved the fourteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five (Pamphlet Laws seven hundred sixty-two) entitled "An act concerning poor relief and the creation and government of poor districts and the administration of the same in all counties of the Commonwealth except in counties of the first and second class and revising amending consolidating and changing the law relating thereto' exempting the counties of Fulton and Cameron from the provisions of said act" is hereby further amended to read as follows

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

TUESDAY, March 19, 1929.

The House met at 11.00 o'clock A. M.
The SPEAKER (Aaron B. Hess) in the Chair.

PRAYER.

The Chaplain, Rev. Martin W. Schweitzer, Ph. D., offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, Thou are good to us with exceeding fullness of mercy. Thy compassions fail not, they come up with the light of every morning, and they fill the darkness of the night with lights brighter than the stars.

Thou art our helper; when we are helpless Thou art nearer to use than our own life; Thou art round about us like a great defense of fire, and no man can pluck us out of the Father's hand.

Help us to do good unto all men as we have opportunity. May we be alive and alert to the duties and privileges of to-day. The night cometh wherein no man can work. We can pass this way but once; if therefore there is any good thing we can do, give us grace to do it now. Now is the accepted time. To-day is the day of salvation. Help us to make the most of the passing day. In His name we ask. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of yesterday.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of yesterday, when, on motion of Mr. Myers, seconded by Mr. Voltz, the further reading was dispensed with and the Journal approved.

NAYS—1.

Batchelor,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative, and the amendments were concurred in.

Ordered, that the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. FRED W. PATTERSON. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. FRED W. PATTERSON. I desire to make a statement concerning the road question.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. FRED W. PATTERSON. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I have given this road problem considerable study. I have come to the conclusion that we should make some effort, or make some change, in the program that has been decided upon by the sub-committee and others not representatives. I have presented a bill which seems to me to be a reasonable and a workable bill for the construction of roads in our townships. We all know that the townships have been neglected; that the principal efforts of the State, or of the Legislature, has been to satisfy and gratify the automobilists and the tourists and bus lines and the trucks. I made some particular study of the finances of the Highway Department that we will likely provide for them, and I found under that statement, rather in the report of our honorable Secretary of Highways, that he intended to use for replacement of roads twenty-five millions of dollars—mind I only speak in millions—and thirty-five million dollars for new construction. We of course hear a great deal about the lack of funds in that Department. In my opinion they are enormous and plenty for their use if they are properly adjusted or properly distributed. Now it occurred to me after I saw that there were thirty-five million dollars, or rather sixty million dollars, to be expended for new construction and replacement.

There is so much to say on this road question that likely I may be mixed up. I think I said there were sixty million dollars that the State Highway Department intended to spend on new construction and replacement at a cost per mile of fifty thousand dollars. As I am aware from experience, fifty thousand dollars is entirely too much to be expended on our main mileage on State highways. If we could expend thirty-five thousand dollars a mile and get an extraordinary finish and serviceable road it would be better. I decided that by doing that, that we would get and have a surplus that could be applied to other purposes. Now Mr. Wheeler has a bill which in my opinion is an excellent bill. It takes care of the State highway question by taking twenty-three million dollars, I assume out of this sixty million dollars, may be it doesn't do that but I think it intends to do that. Now I conceive that we could take twenty more million out of that sixty million and apply it to the township roads and apply it proportionately with the mileage now existing in the township highway system. That will enable us, or enable the Highway Department, to construct for the townships what we call low-cost roads or what is termed sometimes a bound type and sometimes called a hard surface type, that means that it is made a permanent road by adding surface to it as the traffic increases. These progressive types can be constructed at a cost of from seven to ten thousand dollars a mile. We could construct six or seven miles more of road in that way benefit our isolated farmers. As the main roads are now they are fit only to be used most of the year by ducks and pigs. Of course ducks and pigs are a help to the farmer. Now if we do that I am sure that there is a possibility of our doing something that has not been done at any time before, taking care of the farmer. This morning I was disappointed as I had presented a bill last night that was not committed, and I managed to get the ear of the chairman of the committee, and I finally got his attention, and I learned that my bill is not on the program and that it would have a poor show of getting there. But there is one thing I might say and that is, that I will get considerable publicity out of it anyhow.

Now, gentlemen, I have prepared a statement that explains this bill. It is quite lengthy and I thought I would make a preliminary speech here and then request the Speaker to have what I will present spread on the Journal.

Our State has about 160,000 farms and many small residential districts that are dependent on 70,000 miles of mud and deeply rutted roads which are impassable during at least six months of the year.

An important problem for the Legislature is to render more aid to the farmer than to the tourist and the owner of busses and trucks. This can be accomplished only by forcing the Highway Department to reduce the cost per mile and the mileage of new construction and replacements on State Highways, for which the Department intends to use about sixty million dollars for 505½ miles of replacement and 701 miles of new construction.

The sixty million dollars means a cost of $50,000.00 a mile, which is likely $15,000.00 more than is necessary if the Legislature has courage enough to compel the use of a low cost type of construction, to prevent the construction of more than 300 miles of the unimproved gaps in the 8830 miles of the improved state highways and to enact a law that will compel the use of an old worn roadway as a base for a new wearnig surface when replacements are made—the practice now is: Destroy the old—a valuable asset and substitute an entirely new structure at a cost of $50,000.00.

The Highway Department should be compelled to take of the $60,000,000.00 for the 70,000 miles of township roads as much as twenty million—an amount possible to save by the use of a low cost type and a reduction of the contemplated construction of the State Highway. Surely every legislator would be favorable to the use of money that is absolutely not needed for State Highway but is needed for reducing the mileage of the 70,000 miles of the impassable mud roads that prevent the farmers' access to markets, schools, churches and the 8,830 miles of well paved and high cost state highways.

These 8,830 miles of the 13,300 miles of state highway now provide an adequate mileage and a satisfactory service for the tourist, the busses, and the trucks, but the 70,000 miles of township roads provide only mud, deep ruts, distress and isolation for the population of the rural districts.

Hundred of miles of the township roads can rapidly be improved every year at a cost of from seven to ten thousand a mile, provided the organized majority of the Legislature resist an organized minority who may insist that sixty million dollars be used for the construction of 1206 miles of state highways at a cost of $50,000.00 a mile.

I believe the Legislature can prevent an expenditure of $50,000.00 for every mile of new construction and every mile of replacement and I believe they should make an effort to force an improvement of only 300 miles of the 701 miles of state highways contemplated for the next biennium, which will be a suffcient mileage to improve the mud and rutted gaps of the 8,830 improved miles of the 13,300 miles of state highways.

A reduction of 401 miles would provide 20 million for use to reduce the 70,000 miles of the township roads which are often impassable and for use for only ducks and hogs.

The mud roads of the farmer can be quickly and inexpensively made serviceable with a low cost type—known in the states where economy is recognized as a progressive type which means a method whereby a road is improved with a successively higher type surface as is deemed necessary for increasing traffic. This type is useful as an expediency as well as for economy—can be built by using crushed lime stone, slag or gravel as an aggregate and can be easily and cheaply repaired when necessary to serve increased traffic without destroying or wasting the original investment. As traffic increases a bituminous surface treatment will transform the progressive types into smooth riding surfaces and the structure will give efficient services for many years.

If at least twenty million dollars can be salvaged from the sixty million wanted but, in my opinion, not needed for the State Highways, there is a possibility of giving the townships of the state during the next biennium 3,000 miles of serviceable roads, provided the skill and knowledge of the highway officials is given and economy is used.

The following record of the Motor License Fund for the biennium 1929-31 is an abridgment of Secretary J. C. Stuarts' summary statement in the report he made February 7, 1929, to Senator Buckman, Chairman of the Roads Committee of the Senate.

Total Funds estimated to be available June 1, 1929 to May 31, 1931	147,974,780.00
His estimated encumbrance May 31, 1929	12,967,410.00
	$135,007,370.00
Unemcumbered fund available for the 2 years ending May 31, 1931	6,217,598.00
Estimated Expenditures for this Biennium are as follows:
(1) Sinking Fund and Interest	14,635,220.00
(2) Replacement of 505 miles of State Rds	25,243,700.00
(3) New Construction of 595½ Miles State Rds.	24,510,400.00
(4) New Construction of 105½ Miles State Rds.	10,557,955.00
(5) Maintenance State Highways Borough streets, state aid highways & Detour	21,343,650.00
(6) Ground Roads, Widening Roads, etc	3,475,000.00
(7) Purchase and Storage of Plant & Equipment	2,688,000.00
(8) Maintenance of Plant & Equipment	2,870,000.00
(9) Operation of Plant & Equipment	3,260,000 00
(10) Repair parts for equipment	850,000.00
(11) Engineering, Inspection & Administration.	9,871,000.00
(12) Bureau of Motor Vehicles	3,630,000.00
(13) Motor Patrol	2,100,000.00
(14) Completion North Office Building	449,857.00
(15) Township Reward	3,000,000.00
(16) Payments to counties 1st class	500,000.00
Total estimated expenditures	$128,989,782.00

The foregoing summary of expenditures for 1929-31 is submitted because I deem it is important to cause legislators to take particular notice of the large amounts the Department wants for certain purposes.

In another paragraph I intimated that the amount of items 2, 3, and 4 is excessive and could be reduced to forty million dollars. Item 5 likely includes a few thousand dollars more than fifteen million which the budget shows would be expended for wages—, the amount of item 6 could be reduced perhaps to two million if the Department is allowed by the Legislature to build more than the 300 miles of gaps on the state system. The amount of items 7, 8, 9, and 10 seems to be rather large because of the fact that during the biennium of 1927-29 the estimated expenditures was a total of only $2,963,-365.00 for the equipment and a total of only $3,403,626 for supplies. Perhaps the Department will find they do not need for equipment three million dollars more for 1929-31 than was used during 1927-29.

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1426, (Senate Bill No. 411), entitled:

An Act to amend section twenty-one of the act approved the first day of June, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-nine (Pamphlet Laws four hundred and twenty) entitled "A further supplement to an act entitled 'An act to provide revenue by taxation', approved the seventh day of June, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and seventy-nine," as amended, exempting corporations, limited partnerships and joint-stock associations organized for the purpose of the processing and curing of meats, their products and by-products.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. MARCUS. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer an amendment at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendment as follows:

Amend Section 21, Page 3, Line 24, by striking out the word, "and", and inserting in lieu thereof the word, "or".

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendment at this time? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none and the amendment will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, that the bill as amended lie over for printing.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1427, (Senate Bill No. 412), entitled:

An Act to amend section one of the act approved the second day of May, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-nine (P. L. 184), entitled "An act to provide revenue by imposing a mercantile license tax on venders of or dealers in goods, wares and merchandise, and providing for the collection of said tax," exempting wholesale venders or wholesale dealers engaged in the business of processing and curing of meats, their products and by-products.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. MARCUS. Mr Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer an amendment at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendment as follows:

Amend section 1, page 2, line 21, by striking out the word "so".

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendment at this time? Is there any objection? The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1368, entitled:

An Act regulating the arrangement of cases on the trial lists in courts of record of the Commonwealth

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BALDRIGE. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sowers, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SOWERS. With pleasure, Mr. Speaker

Mr. BALDRIGE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Philadelphia to explain the purpose of this bill.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the bill regulates, in a sense, the arrangement of cases on the trial list in court. It seeks to overcome a condition that exists where a case has been continued for a number of times by reason of an accident or by reason of sickness or from some other cause and has been placed on the bottom of the list again and it is two years old. It is then given a preference on the list. It seems that any man that has a case in court which, without any cause on his part has not been tried for two years, he ought to have a preference on the list and have his case tried. Secondly, if he is not given such a preference the witnesses that go to sustain and support that case will be lost and justice will be miscarried.

Mr. BALDRIGE. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of the bill further.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. BALDRIGE. Are you willing to limit this bill to first class counties?

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, if the second-class counties don't want to have this law enacted they can vote against it.

Mr. BALDRIGE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, while I do not doubt the good intention of the sponsor of this bill, I am opposed to it. Most of the lawyers in our county are opposed to it for one reason and one reason alone. It is very nice to get up on the floor of the House and say that because of an accident or from sickness or inadvertence or something else a case has not been tried. That don't very often happen when on occasion lawyers have long, long lists for trial. We have several lawyers in our county who represent the traction company and lawyers who have trespass cases against them, and lawyers for big corporations that have long lists of cases for trial. Many of their cases are from three to five years old and if this bill becomes a law and this gives these cases a preference on the trial list, it will keep every other lawyer from getting his cases on the trial list. We have a rule in our county where four cases of those cases are put at the head of the list every day, and that would correct your trouble over there if you did the same thing. I ask you to vote this bill down.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken.

Mr. LUCAS. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a verification of the roll.

The roll was verified and was as follows:

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 756, entitled:

An Act to amend section thirty-two of the act approved the twenty-ninth day of April, one thousand eight hundred and forty-four, (P. L. 486), entitled "An act to reduce the state debt and to incorporate the Pennsylvania canal and railroad company," as amended; providing for the taxation of the occupation of farmers.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. T. J. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the sponsor of this bill to give a full explanation of it and tell us exactly what it does.

Mr. MEREDITH. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, in the Legislature of 1927 the tax previously levied on horses and cattle was repealed. As I understand, it removed the franchise from the tenant farmer and he did not like that. The tenant farmer is extremely anxious to pay a tax so he could vote, otherwise, not paying a tax, he could not vote. Therefore the grangers have asked me if I would not proceed to present this bill in order to get the franchise so that the tenant farmer could get his vote. I do not want to do a single thing to interfere with the farmer but I do want to help him. I want to help the farmer to get his vote and I thought this would be the proper method to follow.

Mr. BARTON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the sponsor of the bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. MEREDITH. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BARTON. Mr. Speaker, as I understand this bill, if I understand it correctly, this imposes a tax upon the farmer giving him the right to vote. At the same time it gives him the right to vote you are also excluding the tenant farmer from paying taxes on his cattle.

Mr. MEREDITH. Mr. Speaker, all I can say is, that right has now been removed

Mr. BARTON. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I appreciate that but should the farmer pay a poll tax and the tenant farmer be exempted from paying a tax on a herd of dairy cattle of perhaps fifty. The Act of 1927 exonerated the tenant farmer from paying taxes on his cattle. The question in my mind is that in imposing this tax on the farmer and exonerating the tenant farmer, you defeat the purpose of the bill.

Mr. WELLS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the sponsor of the bill whether if this bill becomes a law, it would not be a fact that in addition to the taxes now paid on real estate by the farmer he would also pay an additional tax as an occupational tax. In other words, it would not only add a tax to the tenant farmer but it would also add a tax to the other farmers who pay taxes now.

Mr. MEREDITH. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, it is my opinion that it would.

Mr. DAVIDSON. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, if we will go back to the session of 1927 we will find that the Rhodes bill took all taxes off of cattle, horses and mules throughout the state. There has been a demand on the part of the tenant farmer for the right of suffrage which was in that way taken away from him. Whether this is the right way to get at it or not remains to be seen. I introduced a bill early in the session putting that tax back on again. I was urged by very many men in my district who could not vote at the last election on account of the tenant farmers not having a receipt and not paying a tax, to get some relief for them. I do not think it was right to exempt the tenant farmer who owns fifty or sixty head of cattle from his taxes. A man will go out into the country and get a piece of land and will build up a farm and get together a herd of cattle and build up a dairy business, and there is nothing in Pennsylvania that pays bigger dividends than the dairy business, and he is still being exempted from paying taxes on his cattle. I don't think it fair to put a tax on the farmer who has to pay his property taxes anyhow and exempt the tenant farmer, and I think any tax that is imposed should be put on the tenant farmer in the first place.

Mr. WELLS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I think we are all in favor of in some way trying to enfranchise the tenant farmer again, who, as Mr. Davidson said a moment ago by the act he referred was disenfranchised. Under the law as it stood heretofore farmers themselves were exempted from an occupation tax. Farmers pay taxes on property and this proposed law, as I understand it, would not only put a tax back on the tenant farmer but also on the farmer who now pays a real estate tax. It would seem to me this is not necessary and that some means could be provided, some means could be had, that the tenant farmer could be enfranchised again, and if it is in order, I would ask the sponsor of the bill that this bill be placed on the postponed calendar for further study, and see if some means cannot be worked out whereby the tenant farmer can again be enfranchised and not put a tax on the farmer who is already paying a tax.

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. MEREDITH. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed on the postponed calendar.

Mr. WHITE. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1632, entitled:

An Act to further amend section two of an act approved the eleventh day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws two hundred seventy-five) entitled "An act to provide for the appointment of county and city inspectors of weights and measures providing for their compensation and expenses prescribing their duties prohibiting vendors from giving false or insufficient weight and fixing the penalties for the violation of the provisions hereof" by requiring all weights and measures to be inspected at least once in each year and imposing other duties on inspectors

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

With the information that the Senate has passed the same without amendment.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. LUCAS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. LUCAS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, we have with us today a gentleman who was a member of this honorable body for a number of sessions, who has advanced in his political life and I would ask the Speaker and the members of the House to recognize the gentleman from Chester, the Honorable Walter Hibschman Craig.

The SPEAKER. The Chair will request the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Lucas, and the lady from Montgomery, Mrs. Kirkbride, to escort the gentleman to the rostrum.

It affords the Chair pleasure to introduce to this House an ex-member of this body, the Honorable Walter Hibschman Craig.

REMARKS BY THE HONORABLE WALTER HIBSCHMAN CRAIG.

HONORABLE WALTER HIBSCHMAN CRAIG. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this is really a great pleasure. While I was a member of this House, I never had the opportunity of getting up here except once or twice when I escorted some other dignitary up.

I am surprised very much that the gentleman from Philadelphia knows and remembers my middle name. It is Hibschman, and the Hibschman family lives in the same county that the Honorable Speaker of this House comes from, Lancaster County. I want to say to you that while my forebears did come from Lancaster County I am a Delaware Countian first, last and all the time.

We from Delaware County are very proud of the members of our delegation in this House, and especially of my old friend, Mr. Nothnagle, who took my seat, as well as our efficient Chief Clerk.

It is a pleasure to be here and see the faces of so many of my friends and notice that they are not getting much older. I trust that they may be spared to spend many happy days here with you and that they may through right thinking give to us, the taxpayers of this great Commonwealth, just and sane laws and continue to make this in the future, as it has been in the past, the greatest Commonwealth of this great United States. I thank you.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 571, entitled:

An Act providing for and regulating the subpoena of witnesses to testify in criminal actions pending in any State of the United States of America and providing for penalties for any violations of the same.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL RECOMMITTED.

Mr. McALEE. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Judiciary General for the purpose of amendment and a hearing.

Mr. HENRY A. MILLER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

RECESS.

The SPEAKER. The Chair declares a recess until 4.00 o'clock P. M.

AFTER RECESS.

The House reconvened at 4.00 o'clock P. M.

The SPEAKER (Aaron B. Hess) in the Chair.

Section 20 This act shall become effective on the first day of July one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine

Section 21 All acts and parts of acts inconsistent with this act are repealed

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The SPEAKER. If the House will permit a word of explanation, the only effect of the bill is changing the penalty from two years to sixty days. A delegation of gentlemen have journeyed from all parts of the Commonwealth to witness the vote on this bill, and for that reason the House is taking up the consideration of the bill at this time even though the printed copy of the bill has just been filed.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the ayes and nays were taken.

Mr. LUCAS. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a verification of the roll.

The roll was verified and was as follows:
